PREPAREDNESS FOR THE CHURCH

These are the days in which the Church to show its greatest usefulness must prepare for its work. How can it do this best? By having the Church and all other buildings made the most efficient practically, artistically, and architecturally.

We are specialists in accomplishing such results. Grace M. E. Church, New York, is a good example of our helping Pastor and Building Committee secure a modern up-to-date auditorium.

The Methodist Year Book

EDITORIAL

GENERAL ITEMS

THE METHODIST YEAR BOOK has one Editor, and about seventy-five Corresponding Editors. Were it not for this fine company of people he could never put out the book he does. They work without salary and get little recognition only in this general note. If our readers find anything here that is worth while thank the unnamed company. The Editor takes this means of acknowledging his indebtedness to many for helpful suggestions, and others for their kind responses to his appeals. These answers never came so promptly as this year.

When the Editor began the "make up" of the YEAR BOOK so much matter was in type that it was found necessary to cut out many pages lest the book be too large. It took many things he was sorry to see "get left."

The Army of the Dead

We give so much thought to the living that we fail to think of those who have fought life's battle and have gone to their reward.

When the General Minutes come out the leading question is the increase in church membership and how much more church property have we, but no one thinks to ask how many have come to the end of the conflict and entered into the rest that remaineth for the people of God. These persons are not forgotten by their families or their intimate friends, but the general body of the church drops them from their thoughts; yet every year the Minutes of the Conferences contain the names of the preachers who have died and the number of church members who have gone.

Since 1788 the Minutes of the Conferences have contained a record of the deaths of all preachers. From that time up to 1901 brief memoirs were included under the Question "Who have died?" In the fall of that year the memoirs ceased to appear, and since then there has been published in the General Minutes a "Roll of the Dead," giving the name and the Conference of those who have gone. No statistics of the death of church members was reported until 1857, when there was a column in the General Minutes, and from that time on both ministers and members have been reported. It may be interesting to know that from 1788 up to and including the Spring Minutes of 1917 there is a record of the death of 12,994 Methodist preachers, and from 1857 up to the same time 1,637,066 of the members of the church. These have done their work, and somewhere on the church records their names have been found. The list shows that the average number per year of deaths among the preachers is 101 and of members of the church 27,285.

Liberia Conference reports a decrease of 4,161 in church membership. A letter accompanying the statistical table says the "estimates" of church membership in recent years have been too high. Let us hope they will not make estimates hereafter, but a true and careful count, and then we shall know what we shall know.

The official Catholic Directory has recently been issued, and by its statement there are 17,022,879 Catholics in the United States proper. There are also in this territory 14 Archbishops, 96 Bishops, and 19,983 Catholic clergymen.

The student enrollment in the schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for the year ending March 31, 1917, was 19,649; an increase of 1,400 over the previous year. There was added in endowments, investment in real estate and equipment, nearly $780,000.

DREW SEMI-CENTENNIAL

The Semi-Centennial of Drew Theological Seminary was observed October 29, 30, and 31, 1917, in New York City and Madison, N. J., where the Seminary is located. Drew Seminary was formally opened November 6, 1867, in the presence of the entire Board of Bishops, more than two hundred ministers representing twenty-four Conferences, and many officials and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Among the speakers were Bishop Janes, Bishop Simpson, Dr. John P. Durbin, Missionary Secretary; Dr. Daniel Curry, Editor of The Christian Advocate; Dr. Joseph Cummings, President Wesleyan University; Dr. John McClintock, and Mr. Charles C. North. "Father" Boehm, who had been one of Bishop Asbury's traveling companions, was present and spoke briefly, thus linking the school with American Methodism's early history and its most conspicuous leader. This was especially fitting, as this Seminary was one of the fruits of the Centennial of Methodism in the United States.

For some time before the Civil War many of the leaders of Methodism had felt the need of an institution of distinctively theological training. With far-sighted vision, Dr. James Strong outlined a plan for such an institution in a letter to The Christian Advocate in 1853. Among those who were eager for the establishment of a theological seminary as one of the objects of the Centennial of Methodism in the United States were Dr. John P. Durbin, Bishop Edmund S. Janes, Dr. George R. Crooks, and Dr. John McClintock. The year following the founding of the Seminary in 1866, Mr. Daniel Drew, of New York, bought the Gibbons estate of one hundred acres in Madison, N. J., and known then as now as "The Forest." This estate, including the "Mansion," one of the largest and finest houses in the United States at the time, modeled after the White House in Washington, he presented to the Seminary with other buildings. These have been in continual use now for fifty years. Munificent gifts of other buildings have since been made by John B. Cornell, William Hoyt, Samuel W. Bowne, and others, until there are now on the beautiful campus fourteen buildings, including three dormitories, Library, Administration Building and Chapel, gymnasium, faculty residences, and the latest, the Samuel W. Bowne Dining Hall, a reproduction of Christ Church (John Wesley's University) Hall.

The first faculty was a small but notable one. Dr. John McClintock was the first president and organized the course of instruction. Associated with him were Bernard H. Nadal, Daniel P. Kidder, James Strong, Randolph S. Foster, who on the death of Dr. McClintock, in 1870, was elected President, and after two years of service in that office a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Henry A. Buttz. Among others who have followed in the faculty in subsequent years, and who have made a lasting impression on Methodist thought and life, have been John F.

Hurst, elected President to succeed Bishop Foster in 1872 and himself elected Bishop in 1880, John Miley, George R. Crooks, Samuel F. Upham, all of whom have joined the sainted dead, with the exception of Dr. Henry A. Buttz, who has the remarkable record of having been connected with the Seminary practically from the beginning, as instructor 1867-1869, and Professor from 1869 to the present time. For thirty-two years he was the honored President of the Seminary, resigning in 1912, when he was made President Emeritus, retaining his professorship and continuing his work. He was succeeded by Dr. Ezra S. Tipple, who had been Professor of Practical Theology since 1905. The present faculty numbers seventeen.

The first class was graduated May 30, 1869. Since that time more than 2,500 men have attended the institution and have gone out from it to service in all parts of the world. Graduates of Drew are to be found in practically every Conference and every mission field of the church. The service which this Seminary has rendered the denomination and the kingdom of God in the world during the half century of its history cannot be estimated. But great as have been its achievements and notable as have been its contributions to the progress of Christ's kingdom, it enters upon the second half century in the confident expectation of a larger opportunity and a larger service.

CENTENNIAL OF THE METHODIST REVIEW

The people called Methodists were never content to foster ignorance. In their estimation it was next to sin, if not indeed itself sinful. While many of the early preachers were men without much education, it was the purpose of the leaders, from Mr. Wesley's day on, not only to encourage, but to insist that preachers and people should become intelligent. As far back as 1738 we find Mr. Wesley printing small tracts which he sold at a penny apiece. Later on he printed larger ones. He expected the preachers to be distributors of this literature, feeling assured that the printed page would last when the human voice was hushed.

At the first Conference, held in Philadelphia in 1773, much attention was given to the circulation of books. At the Conference of 1789, five years after the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church, they appointed "Book Stewards" to direct the publication and sale of Methodist literature, and in the Discipline of 1796 we find this statement: "Next to the preaching of the gospel, the spread of religious knowledge by the press is of the greatest moment to the people."

The Methodist circuit rider of that day carried in his saddle bags besides the Bible, the Discipline and Wesley's hymns, as much literature as he could dispose of to the people.

In the Minutes of the General Conference of 1796 this question and answer occurs: "Will the Conference recommend and engage to promote the publication of a magazine entitled The Methodist Magazine which shall consist of compilations from British magazines, and of original accounts of the experiences of pious persons, and shall be published in monthly numbers?"

The answer is, "The Conference will recommend such a magazine and desire that it may be printed."

It appeared in 1797 and 1798, but Mr. John Dickins, who published it, having fallen a victim to yellow fever, and the publication being somewhat embarrassed financially, it was discontinued. In 1816 the matter was again taken up and the General Conference authorized the publication of a magazine to be called, The Methodist Missionary Magazine. It was commenced in 1818. For some reason, not known to the writer, the word Missionary never appeared in the title. It was under control of the Book Agents of that day, and was the only publication of the church until The Christian Advocate was established in 1826. It was published monthly until 1828, when it was ordered changed to a quarterly. This first appears at the close of volume 12 in 1830 when the new series began, and volume 1 of the Methodist Magazine and Quarterly Review appeared. The third series began in 1841 when volume 23 had been completed. It was then edited by Dr. George Peck. In 1849 volume 1 of the fourth series appeared and the name was changed to The Methodist Quarterly Review. This was continued until 1885, when volume 1 of the fifth series appeared and the name became the Methodist Review (bi-monthly). This series continues up to the present time and with volume 99, No. 6, whole number 548, and the fifth series, volume 33, No. 6, bearing date of November-December, 1917, the magazine will have completed one hundred years of existence. This is not equaled by any other publication in the church, nor by any other magazine in the United States except the North American Review, which began in 1815 in Boston, and was transferred to New York city in 1819.

When the magazine began its existence in 1818 the membership of the church was 229,627, and there were 748 preachers on the roll. Since that day Methodism has grown in numerical strength, although the one great family has been broken up into various branches so that the comparison needs to be with the entire family rather than a part.

The latest figures available for Methodism in America show that the 748 ministers have increased to 41,800 and the 229,000 members to 7,608,284. Never was the Methodist Review better, or better patronized as to its readers or more enjoyed as to its editorial work than at the present time under the editorship of the Rev. William Valentine Kelley, D.D., L.H.D. (see Frontispiece), who has occupied the editorial chair for a quarter of a century, and is privileged to issue the centennial number of this great publication.

Though this man of intellect and scholarship has passed his threescore and ten years of age his bow abides in strength, and his great heart is warm toward all that aims at the promotion of the kingdom of God on the earth.

A LUTHER ANNIVERSARY

Martin Luther was born at Eisleben in 1483. His parents were people in moderate circumstances, who desired that their son should enter the law, but the call of God was in a different direction, and in due time he entered upon the work which made him one of the greatest of the Protestant Reformers of the sixteenth century. He was ordained a priest in 1507 and in the following year removed to Wittenberg, where he became a teacher in the new university that was founded by the Elector Frederick of Saxony. It was not long before he began lecturing on the Holy Scriptures. His views were somewhat novel and excited the attention of the people, while at the same time they made a great impression. He also began to preach, and his sermons were in demonstration of the Spirit and with power. In the year 1510 or 1511 he was sent on a mission to Rome. Much that he saw made an impression that determined him in his purpose to strike heavy blows against the system of indulgences, which had reached a scandalous height. John Tetzel was selling them. It was an organized part of the papal system. Money was needed at Rome to feed the extravagances of the papal court, and by granting permission to people to sin and assuring them of pardon, these indulgences were sold. Luther came back to Wittenberg and drew up 95 theses, which he nailed to the door of the church at Wittenberg on October 31, 1517. This act created quite a stir and soon came to the attention of Pope Leo X, and as the seriousness of the case grew, he was summoned to Rome to answer. It was not long before a papal Bull was issued against him. His document was burned in the presence of the multitude. Germany was convulsed with excitement, and he was required to appear before the Diet of Worms, where he held his ground in a most determined way. Four hundred years have passed since that day and the doctrines which Luther taught have taken deep root in the world and Lutherans everywhere are observing this anniversary time. The Lutherans of this country are very largely of German or Scandinavian origin. They have not always wholly agreed among themselves, as is evidenced by the fact that there are twenty-one different bodies of Lutherans, aggregating by the latest figures 2,454,334 communicants with 9,847 ministers and 15,289 churches. Every branch of Protestant Christianity gladly joins in congratulations to this great body of people who have stood for 400 years for the faith once delivered to the saints.

CENTENARIANS

MRS. JAMES PIKE

It is a pleasure to present a brief sketch and the pictures of two wide-awake and alert Methodists who have not only reached, but have passed the one hundred year mark.

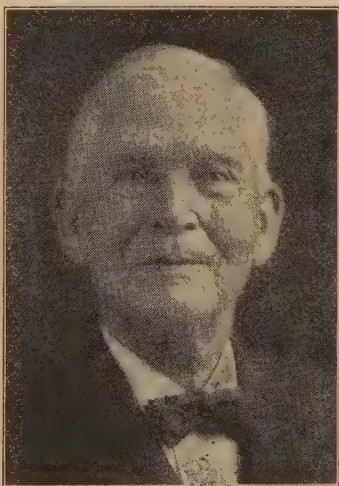

Mrs. James Pike of Newfields, N. H., was born one hundred and two years ago last September. Her father was the Reverend John Brodhead, one of the pioneer Methodist preachers of New England. He was a very distinguished character in his day; and was a man of powerful physique that would in many cases indicate a great deal of stern firmness, but he is said to have been a man of a kind and generous disposition. He joined the Methodists in Pennsylvania in 1794, and in 1796 was sent as a young preacher to the State of Maine. He drifted over into New Hampshire, and it was not long until he became a Methodist leader in that State. He was not only noted as an itinerant preacher of great power, but he became one of the most distinguished citizens and served both in the Legislature of the State, and in the national Congress, and once declined a gubernatorial nomination. Bishop Hedding says of him, "Such was his popularity as a preacher that multitudes were attracted from great distances to hear him. He was a man of extraordinary religious zeal and resolution, and in the early part of his ministry, while his health was firm, he labored in the cause of Christ, preaching, praying, and exhorting to an extent beyond most men of his day." He died in the year 1838, and his remains were buried in the cemetery at Newfields. His daughter Mary married Rev. James Pike, D.D. He joined the New Hampshire Conference in 1841, and became one of its most distinguished members. He not only filled many of the most important appointments, but served several terms as presiding elder. He was a member of four General Conferences, beginning with 1860, and from 1868 to 1872 was a member of the Book Committee. It was during that time that the famous Lanahan trial occurred. Like his father-in-law he served a term in Congress and was a candidate for the governorship of the State. He died in 1895, having been fifty-five years a Methodist preacher. His widow has remained in what has been for about three quarters of a century known as the "Brodhead home" in Newfields, a house which has always been open to Methodist preachers, and where there has been a religious atmosphere that has been delightful.

Mrs. Pike's mind is as quick and alert as it was half a century ago, and in some respects she is one of the most remarkable women in American Methodism to-day. She is lovingly cared for by a daughter and niece, and her last days are certainly rated among her best.

Rev. Albert Vogel was born in Wert am Rhein in Germany, June 19, 1817. He came to this country early in life and has spent most of the century in and around the city of Pittsburgh, Pa. He was brought up in the Lutheran Church in which his father was for many years an elder. After the young man came into the membership of the Methodist Church, his talents were recognized and he was given a license to preach. For eight or nine years he preached in the vicinity of Bucyrus, O., in what is now known as the Central German Conference. In 1874, when he was fifty-seven years of age, he was ordained an elder by Bishop R. S. Foster, at Blairsville, Pa. (at the same time the editor of THE METHODIST YEAR BOOK was also ordained an elder). After coming back from his pastorate in Ohio, Mr. Vogel engaged in business and was an extensive baker and merchant in Pittsburgh. He preaches almost every week somewhere, and makes extensive evangelistic trips to Ohio and Michigan, and has engagements or requests to preach for the next six months. He is very active, is the possessor of good health, has a voice of remarkable power, and has great vigor in preaching and exhorting. His mentality is very remarkable for one of his years. His life covers the history of Pittsburgh as does no other living person. His home is in Jeannette, a part of Pittsburgh, where he is connected with the German Methodist Church.

THE PATRIARCHS OF NINETY AND BEYOND IN THE TRAVELING MINISTRY OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Reference is often made to some retired brother as the oldest living Methodist minister. With the revival of interest in and respect for these veterans, an accurate list is desired and will be prepared of all who are aged ninety or beyond. Hence the following data are desired of all those born during or before 1828. Communicate the same to the Rev. B. T. Vincent, one of the presidents of the Veterans of the Cross Fellowship, 903 East Fourteenth Avenue, Denver, Colo., or to the editor of THE METHODIST YEAR BOOK and they will be published from year to year.

MEN VS. WOMEN IN THE CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

Many times the question has been asked, "What proportion of the church membership are men and what are women?" A very general reply has been, "From two thirds to three fourths are women." A pastor might draw his conclusion from the character of his own membership roll. The question having been "put up" to the editor of THE METHODIST YEAR BOOK, he determined to investigate a little and see what he could find. Three hundred return post cards were sent out to all points of the compass from Maine to California, Florida to the State of Washington, and all points between; to country churches, to those in small towns, villages, and cities of all sizes. Three questions were asked. 1. The total membership of the church. 2. The number who were males; and 3, the number who were females.

Replies came back from 252 churches, reporting an aggregate of 99,860 members, of whom 37,978 were men and 61,882 were women. The average per cent of men is 38; and of women, 62; or three eighths men and five eighths women. These figures will be a fair average through the church, and by the totals of 1916 would give us, of men, 1,552,824; and of women, 2,578,040, not counting nonresident members.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH MEMBERSHIP WITH CHURCH AND PARSONAGE PROPERTY, BY STATES

There is very little that is easy in figuring out the facts indicated below. If all the Conferences were included within State lines it would be a small task; but when one small Conference extends into nine different States, and many others into two or three or more, it means a case of complex addition and subtraction that is muddling to gray matter. The following small group of figures required several weeks of time, and then when appearances seemed to be against portions of it, days were spent in a review to correct errors. The editor will not take oath that it is absolutely correct, but he believes that it makes a close approach to the truth.

STATISTICS OF OUR COLORED CHURCHES BY STATES

Some of these Conferences are distributed over several States. The Lincoln is in Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, and Oklahoma. The Delaware is in the States of Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. This accounts for the varied divisions presented in the table.

In Africa there is a reported membership of 12,345. In these are included 5,383 preparatory members, leaving a total of full members of 6,962. These added to the 310,194 make a total colored full membership of 317,156.

UNIFICATION

There have been two meetings of the Joint Commission on Unification since the adjournment of the General Conference at Saratoga in May, 1916. The first of these was held in Baltimore, Md., beginning on December 27, 1916, and continuing into the early days of 1917. At this meeting the Commission took, as it were, its bearings and laid out its course. After full and brotherly conversations on the important matters committed to their care the Commissioners decided that practically all major questions could be handled best by the appointment of four committees and these committees were constituted as follows:

1. A Committee on Conferences to consider and report upon the number, boundaries, and powers of the proposed Regional and General Conferences.
2. A Committee on The Judicial Council to consider and devise a plan for the constitution of a Supreme Court of Appeals.
3. A Committee on the Status of the Negro in the Reorganized Church to consider and report upon all matters having to do with the relation of the colored membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church to the proposed merger.
4. A Committee of General Reference to consider and report upon all matters referred to it by the Joint Commission.

The morning session of Friday, December 29, at 10:30 o'clock, was held in the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore.

BISHOP CRANSTON AND DR. GOUCHER

Bishop Cranston called the meeting to order.

The hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was sung.

J. F. Goucher was called upon to read the Scriptures, and said:

"It is peculiarly appropriate at this opening session that we should remind ourselves of our common spiritual forbears, into whose labors we have entered.

"We are assembled in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, the lineal descendant of Lovely Lane Meeting House, in which American Methodism was organized in 1784.

"This table stood for more than one hundred years in the Alexander Warfield House on Sams Creek, in the 'Prophet's Chamber,' which was occupied very frequently by Bishop Asbury. Beside the 'Prophet's Chamber' was a large closet or small room, where he spent hours in prayer. The Bishop stopped at the Warfield home as he was going South and coming North, to rest his horse, have his clothes repaired, to catch up with his mail, and write up his Journal. Bishop Asbury wrote a very large part of his Journal on this table, which stands in front of our presiding officer. Bishops McKendree and Whatcoat and many other worthies also used this table.

"The chair in which the presiding officer is sitting was made from the black walnut tree, under which Robert Strawbridge was buried in 1781.

"The gavel placed here for use this morning was made from the live oak tree, under which Mr. Wesley with some of his fellow voyagers offered prayer when he first set foot on the soil of America on the bank of the Savannah River in 1736.

"In the early days of Methodism, there were in Maryland very many homes set apart as regular preaching places, each supplied with a pulpit like this one. This pulpit belonged in the home of John Evans, who was a class leader forty-three years, and the first recorded Methodist convert in America, converted probably in September, 1763. His home was a regular preaching place for the Methodists from 1768 to 1809; and in the home of John Evans this pulpit was used by Robert Strawbridge for thirteen years; and from it sixty-eight Methodist itinerants, including Strawbridge, Asbury, McKendree, and Whatcoat, preached the 'Word of Life.'

"These saddle bags, hanging on the arm of the pulpit, belonged to Henry Smith, who was closely related to Bishop Soule.

"I hold in my hand the pocket Bible which belonged to Bishop Coke, and which he carried with him in his world-wide travels. When Bishop Coke was on his way to India, early on the morning of May 5, 1814, his traveling companion found his lifeless body, kneeling in his stateroom. This pocket Bible was close beside him—doubtless the last material thing he had grasped while on earth.

"I deem it eminently appropriate that standing in the Strawbridge pulpit, beside the Asbury table, and using Bishop Coke's pocket Bible, we should read for our Scripture lesson, at this opening of the first business session of the Joint Commission on Unification, the same lesson which Wesley read, at the opening of his ministry in America.

"John Wesley's Journal records March 7, 1736:

"This day I commenced my ministry in Savannah, and I preached from the lesson for the day, which was the 13th chapter of First Corinthians."

"We will read for our Scripture lesson the first Scripture lesson which Wesley officially read in America."

Hereupon, J. F. Goucher read the 13th chapter of First Corinthians. First hymn was sung:

"O for a thousand tongues to sing
My great Redeemer's praise."

The second meeting convened at Traverse City, Mich., on June 27, 1917, and adjourned on July 3. At this meeting the Sub-Committees on Conferences, Judicial Council, and Status of the Negro presented reports. However, there was time only to consider the report of the Committee on Conferences. This report was considered at length and while certain proposals were agreed to tentatively others were referred back to the Committee for further study and possible revision. Most important of the matters referred back was the number and boundaries of the Regional Conferences concerning which the Commission desired further information. It was evident that reports—for the Sub-Committee was not a unit—on the Status of the Negro would not be acceptable, to a majority of the Commissioners and they were therefore referred back for consideration and revision.

A third meeting of the Commission is called to meet in Savannah, Ga., beginning on January 23, 1918, at which time the reports of the Committees on Judicial Council and The Status of the Negro will doubtless have right of way. At that time also, it is hoped, the negotiations will have reached a point where a fairly complete report of the work of the Joint Commission can be made up and reported to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which meets in May, 1918.

While much genuine progress has been made the Church should remember that everything thus far accomplished is tentative, and its final adoption is dependent upon an agreement on the exceedingly delicate and vital issues that are still undetermined.

THE BOOK EDITOR

This is the era of good books, and The Methodist Book Concern is rightfully styled the "House of Good Books." Great care is exercised in the selection of manuscripts that shall give a variety in the subjects presented, so that not too many books shall be issued on any one line, but an even balance that will give to all a portion in due season.

The Book Editor, Dr. Downey, carefully reads every manuscript that comes in to pass upon its relative value, and it is safe to say that the Publishing Agents were never accepting a better list of books than now.

Among the many books published during the past year the following list will be a fine addition to every preacher's library:

John and His Writings, Professor D. A. Hayes.

Good Ministers of Jesus Christ, Bishop William F. McDowell.

Understanding the Scriptures, Bishop Francis J. McConnell.

Religious Experience: Its Evidential Value, Dr. George P. Mains.

When Christ Comes Again, Dr. George P. Eckman.

Religious Education and Democracy, Prof. B. S. Winchester, of Yale School of Religion.

The Consciousness of Jesus, Dr. H. M. DuBose.

James Monroe Buckley, Dr. George P. Mains.

Men Who Missed the Trail, Dr. George Clarke Peck.

Popular Aspects of Oriental Religions, Dr. L. O. Hartman.

With the Children, Dr. William V. Kelley.

The Other Side of the Hill, Dr. F. W. Boreham.

THE GENERAL CONFERENCE COMMISSION ON COURSES OF STUDY

Methodism's biggest single educational institution is that connected with the courses of study for its preachers, itinerant and local. In the English-speaking Conferences alone there are 3,500 students enrolled, with 1,500 examiners. This is exclusive of those who are excused from the Course of Study and of the many "supplies" who take the local preachers' course.

Hitherto little attention has been paid to this great educational opportunity outside of individual Annual Conferences. The church itself simply gave to these Conferences a list of books upon which it was to examine its young men. The last General Conference initiated a plan which promises to become one of the most notable movements undertaken by the church for the training of its ministry. The movement is, of course, only in its beginnings. A permanent commission of seven members appointed by the bishops and containing two of their number has charge of all matters relating to the courses of study for ministers, and is instructed to aid the work of the Conference boards in every possible manner. In addition to the reorganization of the course, the Commission has provided a series of "Directions and Helps" for the student, one volume to accompany each year. It has practically initiated a great correspondence school. The materials for this are prepared by the Commission, while the work with the student is carried on by the Conference boards. The Commission's first task has evidently been pedagogical. Aside from the preparation of the Helps for the student, the most significant feature is the plan of required written work which the student must send in during the year.

The members of the Commission are: Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, Chairman; Rev. David G. Downey, Vice-Chairman; Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Prof. F. Watson Hannan, Dr. L. F. W. Lesemann, Dr. Frank S. Townsend, and Prof. H. F. Rall, 714 Foster Street, Evanston, Ill., Secretary.

These figures are from the pastors' reports as made to the Annual Conference. They are complete for 1916. The Spring Conferences of 1917 are also given here. Only about one half the reports of the Fall Conferences are at hand as the Year Book goes to press, so the complete report for 1917 cannot be given.

Two days a week doing personal work in Camp Upton, Yaphank, is a part of the program of Rev. Paul E. Edwards, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Riverhead, Long Island. Although his church is twelve miles from the camp, numbers of his people entertain soldiers in their homes, having them come over for the week end. That many of them accept this invitation is encouraging, when it is remembered that New York City is only thirty cents' worth of railroad fare away. Several talented young soldiers at the camp are assisting at the camp as musicians, soloists, chalk talkers, etc. Mr. Edwards has private interviews with the soldiers, bringing the conversation to their religious life and problems and supplying them with New Testaments when he has them. He furnishes the Y. M. C. A. workers in the camp with the names of Christian men whom he discovers, that they may be used for personal and active work.

This tablet in honor of Bishop Asbury was unveiled in the First Church, Baltimore, on June 11, 1917. It was under the auspices of the Tri-Methodist Ministerial Union of the city. The inscription is as follows:

"1773 ORGANIZED LOVELY LANE SOCIETY. 1774 BUILT LOVELY LANE MEETINGHOUSE. 1776 PASTOR LOVELY LANE CONGREGATION. 1784 ELECTED AND CONSECRATED BISHOP. 1786 DEDICATED FIRST LIGHT STREET CHURCH. 1796 REORGANIZED COKESBURY COLLEGE IN THE CONFERENCE ROOM. 1797 DEDICATED SECOND LIGHT STREET CHURCH. 1816 BURIED FROM LIGHT STREET CHURCH. 1856 REMAINS REMOVED TO MOUNT OLIVET CEMETERY, WHICH BELONGS TO THIS CHURCH."

OUR FOREIGN LANGUAGE CONFERENCES

Are they increasing or decreasing? The figures of 1900 and 1916 are used for comparison.

The German Conferences show the following membership:

1900.....62,756.	1916.....63,369.
------------------	------------------

Swedish Conferences:

1900.....10,602.	1916.....20,213.
------------------	------------------

This large increase is in part due to the fact that in 1900 there was no Eastern, Southern, or Pacific Swedish Conference, and the Swedish membership was scattered among the English Conferences.

A MEMORIAL TO BISHOP ASBURY

WHY A MEMORIAL TO ASBURY? Because as an itinerant preacher, Bishop, and organizer, he laid the foundations of Methodism in America. The first American-made Bishop, the prophet of God who saw the possibilities of the future in the opportunities of the present, he established our itinerancy, gathered societies of converts, united and harmonized the scattered churches, nourished the spirit of revival, and lived to see American Methodism overtake and pass in numbers Wesley's own movement in England.

"THE PROPHET OF THE LONG ROAD"

WHY AN EQUESTRIAN STATUE? Because he spent most of his time on horseback, going from appointment to appointment, reading, studying, and even preparing sermons in the saddle. He pressed this method of travel and work upon others, and raised up a host of itinerants, who will all be honored in his statue, which will stand as a monument to their heroic labors.

WHY PLACE THE MEMORIAL IN WASHINGTON? Because Francis Asbury was a patriot as well as preacher. He was the only English preacher who went not back to England at the outbreak of the Revolution, but cast in his lot with the Americans and was the first minister to present to George Washington, the first President, an address assuring him of the loyalty of the Methodists. As one of the many builders of the Republic, he deserves a place among the nation's heroes, political and military, to whom monuments have been raised in our National Capitol.

The sculptor is Mr. Augustus Lukeman, of New York, who has many monuments to attest his skill, and whose plan for the statue has met the views of the National Fine Arts Commission, in Washington, without whose approval no statue can be placed on public grounds in the National Capitol.

The statue will cost about $50,000, the churches of all branches of the American movement to raise the necessary funds. The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Saratoga, approved the plan for the statue, and commended the appeal to the churches. The Board of Bishops adopted at Minneapolis, in October, 1916, a resolution pledging their efforts to raise the apportionment of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which is $30,000. This apportionment has been made to all the Conferences by the Apportionment Secretary, Dr. Hollingshead.

The Francis Asbury Memorial Association is promoting the movement. It was organized in Washington, D. C., in 1915, under the auspices of the Ecumenical Methodist Commission. Bishop Earl Cranston is President; Chief Justice E. K. Campbell, Vice-President; Dr. H. K. Carroll, Corresponding Secretary, Plainfield, N. J.; Dr. E. L. Watson, Recording Secretary, and Mr. W. T. Galliher, President of the American National Bank, Washington, D. C., Treasurer. All branches of Methodism are represented on the Executive Committee, including the Methodist Church of Canada, and all are contributing to the statue.

WAR DEPARTMENT

America went into the great world conflict not because she loved war, nor because she hated Germany, but she could not retain the respect of nations nor her own self-respect and stay out. We had been slapped in the face too often to put up with it; the other fellow's hat had been in the ring so long with no move to take it out. She found it was necessary to throw hers in beside it. It is there to stay until autocracy is knocked out and democracy is given the right of way.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS' GIFT TO THE RED CROSS

The Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church are to be congratulated on the very remarkable gift to the Red Cross of a check for one hundred thousand dollars that had been raised in a few weeks after the request was sent out. The cuts given here show Bishop Nicholson as he is presenting the check to the President of the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C., and also a facsimile of the check.

METHODISM AT THE CAMPS

The entering of the United States into the War has brought a new responsibility of ministry to the Methodist Episcopal Church. Some 150,000 of her sons are in the camps located throughout the country. To these choice products of her teaching and training our church has felt a peculiar call to service. For without this ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church our own boys in khaki and blue would be left to the incidental ministry of others.

This great task has been put into operation by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. Under its direction a survey of each camp was made in order to ascertain just what must be done by way of furnishing equipment to regular Methodist army and navy chaplains, for whom the government provides no equipment, for equipping and supporting volunteer Methodist chaplains for officers' training camps and for adequately equipping and manning our local Methodist Episcopal churches near the camps, many of which are rural churches.

A sum of $250,000 for this purpose has been asked for by the Board. An even larger amount will be needed, for the program which each Methodist church near a camp must put into action for the Methodist boys out of each group of 45,000.

The task as it concerns the Methodist Episcopal Church only is conceived as follows:

GENERAL.—Provide equipment for the regular Methodist Episcopal chaplains; provide salary and equipment for the volunteer Methodist Episcopal chaplains either in the officers' training camps or such chaplains as described above; provision for special workers and equipment for the local churches where needed; provision for special buildings where needed; subsidies for pastors and workers already on the field (in some places it will be necessary to add to the salary provided by the local church); arrange special conferences for all who have responsibilities for camp activities, such as regular pastor in charge at camp centers, special workers, areal committees and bishops and district superintendents most concerned; careful organization of the coaching team and the development of a program to be put on by them at the conferences as suggested above; provision for church papers, church literature (such as Sunday School Journal, Adult Bible Class Monthly, the Christian Advocates, pamphlets, etc.), for all Y. M. C. A. buildings and our own buildings. Also an adequate supply of Testaments; suggestive list of helpful books dealing with the spiritual life of the soldier and recreational activities; secure lists of preachers who may be available for preaching in the different camps; secure lists of Methodist preachers who have enlisted in the service either as officers or privates; secure list of pastors who have volunteered as chaplains, but have been refused because of physical reasons.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE LOCAL CHURCH OR CHURCHES AT THE CAMP.—Letters of welcome to soldiers with Methodist affiliation, using list provided by census of the camp and such lists as come through the office of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church; keep in close touch with camp workers; provide attractive gospel preaching, using where feasible the strong preachers of the denomination; make special provision for soldiers in the local Sunday school, secure them to lead the Epworth League, to sing in the church service, etc.; church should be open daily. Using the church as a social center, various activities may be carried on, such as games, debating societies, organizing the musical talent of the camps. Provide victrola, facilities for letter-writing, books and the latest magazines. Refreshments should be frequently provided, ice-water should always be at hand; socials have been held to good advantage after the Sunday evening service; administer the Communion Service regularly for the soldiers; song service, with brief addresses, may often be held during the week evenings in connection with some other program either at the beginning of the evening or at its close; provisions for affiliate membership for the soldiers. When men are converted, let them unite with the church, transferring their regular membership back to the home church if possible, but keep their affiliate membership with the church at the camp. Organization of Big Brother Movement, where a local business man or a Christian soldier may stand as brother to the new converts; the women of the local church can do much for the soldiers, such as provide Sunday dinners, sew on buttons, do needed mending, etc.; look after the sick soldiers who may be in hospitals outside of the camps. (Those in camp hospitals will be looked after by the chaplains and other inside workers.)

PROGRAM FOR THE HOME CHURCH.—Have an honor roll for all soldiers, officers, or enlisted men of all branches of service; have reception for these men before they go, doing them as much honor as possible; send their names to the office of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1701 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., from where they will pass them on to the workers at the camps where they are stationed; follow them with frequent letters; if possible organize a Big Brother Movement at home, where substantial men of the church take the responsibility of looking after the boys who have gone out to the field.

WHAT THE EPISCOPAL AREAS ARE DOING FOR THE SOLDIERS ENCAMPED IN THEIR MIDST

Bishop McDowell reports in the Washington area each Conference is organized to assist the local churches near camps and cantonments and also to aid the regular work within the camps by every proper means. Each local church near a camp is reinforced by a War Work Committee, which cooperates with the church in promoting social life, extra services, visiting our own men, and in every way helping the local church meet the extra demand made upon it. This War Work Committee also has lists of pastors from the whole Conference whom it assigns for periods of one week to four to assist the local pastor in this extra work. At several of the camps associate pastors have been appointed for the whole period of the camp's existence.

The War Work Committee is made of the District Superintendent, two pastors, and two laymen, with the other District Superintendents as advisory.

The Board of Home Missions and Church Extension has backed all this work with counsel and financial help in the finest way. We could not have met the conditions without the support of this Board.

Bishop Cooke: "In response to your request, I report that in all the camps in my area the moral and social interests of the soldiers are cared for by Army Chaplains, Y. M. C. A. and other workers. The soldiers are of a splendid type. My message to the troops there and in the South where I have preached during vacation has been, 'Endure hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ.'"

Bishop Quayle: "It is not certain where the permanent camps in the Saint Louis area are to be located, but we shall keep watch to do what can be done in the interests of our Methodist patriots during these heroic days."

Bishop Shepard: "There are four camps within the Wichita area—Fort Riley, Fort Leavenworth, Fort Sill, and Fort Worth. One hundred and fifty thousand men are now, or soon will be, in these camps. At Fort Riley lots have been secured and plans completed for the erection of a 'tabernacle' to seat two thousand, and to contain living rooms for pastors, reading and reception rooms for the soldiers, etc. At the other camps our churches are conveniently located and will as far as possible be strengthened by the appointment of additional pastors to care for the moral and spiritual interests of the camps.

"A Commission, consisting of the District Superintendents of the area, has been appointed to keep in touch with all of the camps and to take advantage of all opportunities for Christian service."

Bishop M. S. Hughes says: "The American Lake camp, near Tacoma, is the largest in the United States. At the session of the Puget Sound Conference, just closed, after careful consideration we selected the member of the Conference peculiarly fitted for the work, the Rev. William Park, and appointed him regularly to work among our soldiers under training in camp. We have also a commission composed of leading laymen and ministers to give the matter their special attention."

Bishop Nicholson: "In the Chicago Area we have a committee of fifty of our very strongest men giving attention to this very important subject, and we are doing everything which alertness and careful study can do to meet the situation."

Bishop F. D. Leete: "In the Atlanta Area work for soldiers is being done by our men at Atlanta and Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and at Anniston, Ala. In the latter city we have redeemed a large church building, occupied years ago, but abandoned for nearly a decade. This structure has been adapted for use as headquarters. Institutional efforts are being made to reach and interest the soldiers. Well qualified men are in charge of evangelistic effort and recreations. In the other camps we are furnishing speakers, musical programs, and other service."

Bishop Stuntz: "Camp Dodge has been established by the government ten miles north of the Des Moines City limits. They propose to take care of forty-five thousand soldiers there. The new city is rising as by magic."

"Through funds furnished by the Board of Home Missions we are building a ten thousand dollar pastor's home, auditorium, reading rooms, etc., immediately opposite the central part of the Reservation. I have appointed the Rev. Edgar M. Evans, D.D., now pastor at Trinity Church, Des Moines, to be Superintendent. Together with a stenographer and an automobile, Dr. Evans and his wife will give themselves unstintedly to making the Methodist lads feel at home, and to cooperating in every practical way with government and Y. M. C. A. activities.

"I shall give the work at that camp all the time I can spare from my other duties through the year, and we are laying hands on the best men in the area and out of it to aid Dr. Evans."

Bishop C. B. Mitchell: "My Area is organized to assist in work at Battle Creek, Mich., Camp Douglas, and Sparta, Wis., and at Fort Snelling, Minn. Will take offering from each charge for work under auspices of Home Mission Board."

Dr. E. G. Richardson, writing for Bishop Wilson, says:

"1. Where camps are in or near cities enlist the churches in the interest of the young men. Plan special meetings for them, as well as inviting to all meetings. If possible have reading and correspondence rooms open all the time in the churches for the boys when on furlough.

"2. Seeking to get this great need on the hearts of the people, so that they will welcome the young men, invite them home to a meal and home fellowship.

"3. We are going to cooperate in the camps with the Y. M. C. A. by helping furnish men for part-time work, these men to come from neighboring churches.

"4. We hope in the larger camps not near cities to have a Methodist headquarters just outside the camp equipped to welcome the men on leave.

"5. We are asking all our people to be alert to the conditions around the camps, especially as regards drinking and the social evil."

Bishop Leonard: "The main camps in California are located at Palo Alto and San Francisco in the north, and at Linda Vista and San Diego in the south. There are a number of smaller camps in other parts of the area. Because of the long distances in the San Francisco Area it was thought best to conduct our work among the soldiers under the direction of two committees. One committee will have charge of the work in the north, and the other in the southern part of California. Two of our most gifted preachers will be assigned to these special fields, one working under the direction of the committee of the north, the other under the direction of the committee of the south. They will work in cooperation with the pastors whose churches are located in the vicinity of the camps, and with the Y. M. C. A. secretaries and army chaplains. As far as possible, the salaries of the two preachers will be met by the churches of the area. In addition to this, some of our strong preachers will be assigned to the camps for a period of from two to four weeks for the purpose of delivering special addresses, sermons, and lectures, and also that they may do personal work among the soldiers. This plan is only in the initial stages, but gives evidence of great success."

Bishop Anderson: "I have carefully inspected the training camps in this area in company with Dr. Forsyth, Secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. We have an extra man in Louisville and an assistant pastor at each of our churches in Chillicothe and have planned for extra work at Fairfield, O., near the aviation camp. There is, of course, much to be done and we are meeting the situation as rapidly as possible and as efficiently as possible.

"I have addressed the men in camp at Fort Thomas, Ky., a number of times, each time a large number expressing a desire to lead a Christian life."

Bishop Thirkield: "I have now just returned from San Antonio, where we were undertaking, under the leadership of the Rev. Harry C. Leonard, an extensive program in the interest of the social, moral, and religious betterment of the 100,000 soldiers in camp. The downtown center is at Trinity Church, which is being equipped for definite forms of service. The auditorium is being brightened up and the social rooms are being put in shape to provide rest rooms, recreation, and interesting social life for the soldiers. Williams Chapel is fortunately located within two blocks of the main camp, on the main road, along which thousands of soldiers pass every day. Similar provision is being made here, such equipment as a piano, Victrola, and kitchen attached to the social room to provide for the needs of the soldiers in an attractive way.

"Plans are under way at Fort Logan, Houston, Tex., in connection with our Houston Heights Church.

"As the camps are established for colored soldiers, plans for effective service at such centers as Anniston, Ala., Hattiesburg, Miss., will be adopted and carried out."

WORK FOR OUR SOLDIERS

Inside the Camp

The Young Men's Christian Association has been given official recognition as one of the agencies for furnishing recreational facilities within the camps. From nine to fourteen recreational and social buildings are being erected in each of the National Army cantonments, and in each of the National Guard Camps at least six buildings. These include, in each National Army cantonment, an auditorium, seating three thousand. Up to September 21st contracts for three hundred and sixty-two buildings had been let.

Over one hundred and fifty tents, 40x80 feet, and four hundred special outfits or equipments for Association purposes also have been provided. Each outfit includes, among other things, a piano, motion picture machine, phonograph, office supplies, postcards, pens, ink, pencils, stationery, reading matter, etc.—all free. The service of the Young Men's Christian Association in American training camps in the next nine months will cost eleven million dollars.

THREE THOUSAND MEN SOON IN SERVICE

Already over two thousand war work secretaries are in the field under appointment. Another thousand will soon be added. The Association buildings are freely placed at the disposal of army chaplains for religious services. The same building is often used in turn for Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish services.

The Knights of Columbus, a Roman Catholic organization, is well represented also.

The American Library Association is there with books.

Plans for Recreative Athletic work, the Soldiers' Cooperative Store, Camp Music, Dramatic entertainment, Educational work.

Outside the Camp

The Playground and Recreation Association of America are at work. Nearly one hundred communities are being helped in their efforts to prepare for the thousands of men in camp near them.

The recreation provided must be clean, wholesome, and plentiful. It must be made possible to provide an antidote for the homesickness, depression, and social loneliness, which are so real a menace to the morale of the men. The slogan is: "What can we do for the soldiers?"

Each local community, through a central committee, coordinates the activities of each agency and group of people touching and controlling in any way the recreational resources of the town. Churches and fraternal orders are being stimulated to entertain their own soldier membership. Socials are being arranged. Entertainment of the soldiers in the homes of the citizens is one of the most popular features of the hospitality program. "Take a soldier home for dinner" has become a slogan. On one Sunday in a single community five thousand men were thus entertained.

Swimming pools, shower baths, and baseball fields have been placed at the disposal of the men. Comfort stations and drinking fountains, a list of available hotels and lodging houses. Rest rooms and "khaki clubs" are being established. Automobile rides for the soldiers, community "sings," and band concerts are being given.

Much is done to serve the soldiers' families who visit the camps. The assistance of the Travelers' Aid Society has been enlisted, and the Young Women's Christian Association has been asked to establish "Hostess houses" within the confines of each camp. Five of these have already been completed, and twenty-three more are being built. Their purpose is to afford a place where a soldier can meet his family and friends.

Vigorous work is being done for the control of alcohol and prostitution.

A wide educational campaign along lines of sex hygiene has been undertaken in all the camps, through the agency of the American Social Hygiene Association and the Young Men's Christian Association. Lectures, moving pictures, and exhibits of various kinds are utilized, and an extensive literature has been developed. Educational work has also been undertaken in the adjacent communities, and the widest possible use is made of pamphlets and other literature to impress upon the communities the policy of absolute repression which the War Department has adopted.

At Louisville, Ky., where the Methodist Episcopal and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, are cooperating, the soldiers are attending the regular services of the different churches in large numbers. Socials present the opportunity of contact for personal follow-up work. A club room opened down town by the Methodist Commission on War Activities is requested by the men nights and Sundays. Parents and relatives from out of town seek information and assistance, and appeals are received daily from Indiana and Kentucky to "look up" boys at camp. Nine socials in ten days with Methodist groups as hosts indicates a live interest. Trinity has three hundred men at its special Sunday afternoon program. Over one hundred remain to supper and stay to Epworth League meeting, taking part just as they do at home. The Methodist Temple has a regular Wednesday night program for soldiers. Broadway has had two special services for the men. Fourth Avenue has entertained at an Epworth League Social. The regular weekly schedule of the Methodist workers in Louisville calls for fifteen special programs and a definite service to fifteen thousand men each week.

One of the women members of the Federal Street Methodist Episcopal Church, New London, Conn., acts as registrar for enlisted men in order that the pastor, Rev. C. Harley Smith, may send invitations to them. A social hour at home where light refreshments are served between church closing and boat time is a part of this ministry.

The fifty-three members of the Torpedo Boat Destroyer at Aberdeen, Wash., are being cordially received to the services of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Dr. E. M. Hill, pastor, and after service to the hospitality of the homes of the members for dinner.

A Soldiers' Male Quartet and Glee Club has been organized by Rev. R. S. Oyler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Gettysburg, to furnish music at soldiers' socials and entertainments. A recent "home bake," Friday night, at which pies, cakes, and spreads were served to one hundred and fifty hungry soldiers.

Although only one week a Christian, a young Methodist soldier from Tennessee began hospital visitation at the Letterman Hospital, the Presidio, San Francisco, where he is telling of his new Friend and Saviour to men from every section of the country.

An interesting feature of the soldier work at the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Gettysburg, Pa., is the open-house plan on Friday night. On this night a soldier does the thing he wishes to do. Entire freedom is the entire program. Impromptu pleasure is the order of the hour. There are one hundred enlisted men who feel at home at our church at Honolulu.

PLEASE NOTE.—1. The Conferences with a star (*) are last year's figures. 2. The Editor is not sure of the correctness of the church membership of one large Conference, and could not secure the verification of the figures in time for this issue. He thinks they are too large by nearly if not quite one thousand. The correct figures will be in the next issue of the General Minutes. 3. The Colored Conferences are in italics.

†The decrease in Liberia is because they have been "estimating" their membership rather than counting it. They now announce that their "estimates have been too high."

Although twelve miles from Fort Stevens, the Ministerial Association, of which Rev. W. S. Gordon, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal Church of Astoria, Ore., is president, led the way in a moral clean-up in their city, the government assisting in compelling local officials to shut up all disreputable houses and secure employment for every woman who wanted it. The rest were ordered out of town. About half of the seventeen boys under arms from First Church and Epworth League are at Fort Stevens, thereby giving the church a good connecting link with the Fort. They are visited, sent special invitations to League socials, suppers, etc., and sent boxes of cakes, pies, cookies, and Epworth Heralds.

At the lonely camp off the highway at Tanforan, thirteen miles south of San Francisco, twenty-five men pressed forward to get the "Expectations" card furnished by the Department of Evangelism of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. "I have begun the Christian Life to-night," said one of the young officers in giving his hand to Dr. Alexander C. Stevens, Secretary of the War Emergency Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, San Francisco Area.

Even Hawaii is included in the work of the War Emergency Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, San Francisco Area, of which Dr. Alexander C. Stevens is Secretary and Voluntary Chaplain. The Commission is composed of fifty men appointed by Bishop A. W. Leonard. There are thirty units of men in this territory, including Goat Island Training Station (Naval), Mare Island Navy Yard at Vallejo, and Camp Fremont and Tanforan down the Peninsula. An intimate touch with the Hawaiian work is maintained through Rev. L. L. Loofbourow, pastor of First Church, Honolulu. Secretary Stevens is corresponding with every Methodist pastor in the Area to discover through the pastor's access to the homes, where each man enlisted or drafted has been sent, and is asking every official board in the Area to subscribe for the California Christian Advocate, as a part of the church budget, for every man in uniform from each local church.

Personal work is counting in the work being done at Camp Lewis at American Lake, fifteen miles out of Tacoma, Wash., by Rev. William Ark, in charge of War Camp Activities in that State for the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. By advertising in the three Church Advocates circulating in the territory from which the men came, he received letters from all over the West, which have aided him in losing our Methodist boys in the camp. First Church keeps open house every Sunday from 4 to 9 p. m. An organ recital and social hour is followed by a supper in the banqueting room, Epworth League, and preaching service. Mason church sent autos to Camp Lewis and brought thirty men to morning service and dinner on a recent Sunday. Asbury Church entertained forty men in uniform at a banquet.

ADDRESSES OF THE PREACHERS

There are many calls for the names and addresses of the Methodist preachers in the Year Book, and the wonder is often expressed that they are not there. By the figures of 1916 there are 20,452 Methodist preachers in Conference membership, 18,820 in full connection, and 1,632 on trial. It would not be possible to print, even in small type, with two columns to the page, over 100 names; that would require an addition of 204 pages for this feature alone. It can readily be seen that this is too great an expense to ask the Year Book publishers to incur.

Whoever wants to find the name and address of the "effective preachers," who number over 16,500, can purchase a copy of the Spring or Fall General Minutes, which contains the appointment of every one, that appointment being at least 90 out of 100 times the post office. Where a few hundred of these books are disposed of, each year several thousand should sold. The purchase of these is commended to preachers and laymen. They can be purchased of the Methodist Book Concern at New York or Cincinnati or at any of the Depositories.

LAYMEN'S ASSOCIATIONS

The first Laymen's Association was organized in the California Conference in 1888. The movement has spread now throughout the church. It received its first public recognition at the General Conference in 1904. The General Conference Laymen's Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church, composed of the delegates to the General Conference, was organized in 1904. Objects: To interest all our laymen in the general affairs of the church, and especially to promote the organization of Laymen's Associations in all Annual Conferences, to the end that the church may be aroused to greater usefulness in God's service.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

PUBLICATION

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN

John Wesley sought to instill into the minds of his preachers and people a desire for good literature. When it could not be procured without too great expense he prepared and published it himself and sold at a very low price.

At the close of the Revolutionary War, Mr. Asbury sent two preachers to New York City, one of whom was John Dickins, though there were only sixty members at that time. One writer states, that the purpose of Dickins' appointment was that "he might superintend our Book business." Be that as it may, he was in New York from 1783 to 1789, except the year 1785, when he was stationed in Philadelphia.

In the General Minutes of 1789 the names of John Dickins and Philip Cox appear as BOOK STEWARDS, and in 1790 the appointment is, "John Dickins, Superintendent of the Printing and Book Business." Thus the Methodist Book Concern began in 1790 in Philadelphia, with John Dickins as "Book Steward"—a title that was English in its origin—and continued until 1808, when they were called "Book Agents," which gave way to "Publishing Agents" in 1896.

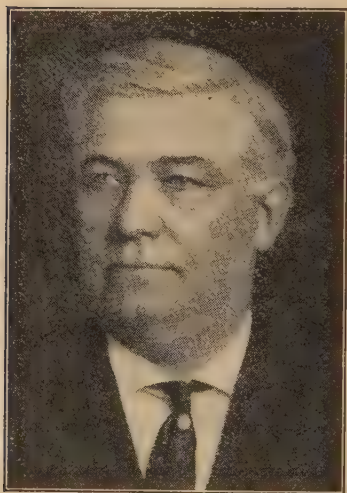

In 1804 the business was removed to New York, this place winning over Baltimore by a vote of 38 to 36. Within twenty years it had changed its location seven times. In 1824 it took possession of the old Wesleyan Academy Building and remained until 1833, when the first building at 200 Mulberry Street was occupied. This burned in 1836. It was rebuilt at once and the business continued there until 1869, when the store and offices were moved to a new home at 805 Broadway. The manufacturing continued on Mulberry Street, until the new structure at 150 Fifth Avenue was completed, in 1889, at which time the entire business was again put under one roof. To meet the needs of a growing church, The Methodist Book Concern established a branch home in Cincinnati in 1820. In 1840 this became a separate corporation, and did a growing business at 220 West Fourth Street for many years. A splendid building, that has been greatly enlarged within a few years, accommodates the book room, various offices, and the large manufacturing plant at 420 Plum Street.

The New York House has three Depositories, or sale agencies: Boston, Pittsburgh, and Detroit. The Cincinnati House has also three: Chicago, Kansas City, and San Francisco.

MISSIONS

BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS

DR. S. EARL TAYLOR

DR. FRANK MASON NORTH

CORRESPONDING SECRETARIES

The Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church is the successor of the Missionary Society, which was organized in 1819 and for eighty-eight years was in charge of the missionary operations of the church both at home and abroad. The General Conference of 1904 took action separating the home from the foreign interests and creating the Board of Foreign Missions, which, after necessary changes in charter, entered formally upon its new legal status January 1, 1907. Under the old Missionary Society the church has contributed for home and foreign missions combined $47,046,496.75, while the Board of Foreign Missions during the past nine years of its corporate existence, 1907 to 1916, has received $15,334,721 for specific work in the foreign field.

Extensive missions are maintained on four great continents as follows: ASIA: India, Burma, Malaysia, the Philippine Islands, Java, Borneo and Sumatra, China, Japan, and Korea. AFRICA: Liberia, Angola, Madeira Islands, Southern Congo, Portuguese East Africa, Rhodesia, Algeria, and Tunis. SOUTH AMERICA: Argentina, Paraguay, Uruguay, Bolivia, Chile, Peru, and Panama. EUROPE: The Board maintains mission organizations in Italy, France, Bulgaria, Austria-Hungary, and Russia, and makes grants in aid to the Methodist Episcopal Conferences in Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Finland. Thus in all thirty-four different countries are reached, while the gospel is preached in more than one hundred different languages and dialects.

THE GENERAL CONFERENCE AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.—The General Conference of 1916 modified the organization of the Board of Foreign Missions, doing away with the General Missionary Committee, enlarging the powers of the Board of Managers so that it performs the functions formerly vested in the General Committee. It provided for the election of an Executive Committee to meet monthly or as otherwise determined by the Board and which passes upon all administrative matters in the intervals of the meeting of the Board itself. It provided also for two instead of three Corresponding Secretaries, electing S. Earl Taylor and Frank Mason North to the post and elected George Milton Fowles Treasurer. It authorized the celebration of the Centenary of Methodist Missions in 1918-1919 and made provision for the appointment of a Committee on a World Program for the church.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.—The management and disposition of the affairs and property of the Board of Foreign Missions, the making of the appropriations, and the administration of appropriations and of funds are vested in the Board of Managers, consisting of the General Superintendent and the Missionary Bishops who are ex-officio members of the Board, thirty-two laymen and thirty-two ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church elected by the General Conference upon nomination of the Bishops. In constituting this Board of Managers the Bishops nominate one representative from each General Conference district, preserving as nearly as may be an equality in the number of ministers and laymen. The Board of Managers meets annually in New York and to it is committed the responsibility of determining what fields shall be occupied as foreign missions and the amount necessary for the support of each.

There are six standing committees of the Board, known as Executive, Administrative, Finance, Candidates, on Education in Foreign Fields, and on Sunday Schools and Young People's Work. The Executive Committee consists of not less than thirty members and meets bi-monthly at the headquarters of the Board in New York.

CENTENNIAL OF METHODIST MISSIONS.—By action of the General Conference the centennial of Methodist Missions will be observed during the years 1918-1919. The Board at its annual meeting in 1916 appointed as a Centenary Commission the following: John T. Stone, R. B. Urmy, George P. Eckman, Fred B. Fisher, George Milton Fowles, James R. Joy, S. Earl Taylor, Frank Mason North, and Bishop Luther B. Wilson. The following are the officers of the Commission: John T. Stone, Chairman; S. Earl Taylor, Executive Secretary; Ralph A. Ward, Associate Executive Secretary.

The order of the General Conference was that the observance of the missionary Centenary should extend through 1918 and 1919. Preliminary preparation for the Centenary has occupied all of 1917. Material has been collected from all parts of the world, furnishing data for a survey of our existing work and the things which are necessary to put it on an efficient basis. Thousands of people in missionary lands and at the home base have been enlisted in regular prayer that the Centenary may prove to be a time of great spiritual uplift for the entire church. Separate surveys are now in process of the work of the Boards of Home Missions and Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. It is planned that these surveys shall first be reviewed by the proper authorities of each Board and then steps taken to secure a unification of the Centenary programs in sections. Thus it will be possible to state in a comprehensive way the world program of American Methodism.

As an initial step in the work of preparing for the Centenary, the Centenary Commission called in conference representative ministers and laymen of the entire church to consider a world program for the Centenary. More than one hundred were present at this conference, which occurred September 17 to 19 at Niagara Falls, New York. Dr. John R. Mott presided. The Board of Foreign Missions was represented by its Corresponding Secretaries, S. Earl Taylor and Frank Mason North, and the Board of Home Missions by its Corresponding Secretary, D. D. Forsyth. The keynote addresses were struck by Bishop J. W. Bashford and Bishop W. F. Oldham, their common theme being the tremendous challenge which the world war with the spread of world democracy flings down to the Christian forces of America, and the determination of Methodism to meet this challenge.

The whole conference was marked throughout its three days by intensive study and prayerful deliberation and reached unanimous agreements concerning a world program which will reach and stir with its inspiring appeal the last church and the last man in Methodism, and is specifically directed to result in a revived and reconsecrated church at home and a church abroad adequately equipped, manned, and munitioned for the conquest of the one hundred and fifty millions whose evangelization is the accepted task of Methodism.

The world program, which was drafted by a Committee consisting of John R. Mott, S. Earl Taylor, F. T. Keeney, A. W. Harris, and R. B. Weber, was a document of seven thousand words. It may be summarized into the following ten vital recommendations:

1. That the Methodist Episcopal Church now take its full share in the evangelization of the world, according to the facts of need as definitely ascertained and presented.

2. That eight million dollars ($8,000,000) a year for five years be secured to cover the askings of the foreign fields, to establish permanent funds to meet overhead expenses, retiring allowance for missionaries, and relief for their widows and orphans. This amount ($40,000,000) to be put with the amounts needed for Home Missions, but not yet fully ascertained.

3. That the Centenary Commission conduct a joint campaign (1918-1919) under the auspices of Boards of Foreign and Home Missions.

4. That a powerful church-wide educational campaign be prosecuted, by means of press, picture, and pulpit.

5. That a vital missionary organization be carried from Area, Conference, and District down to the last church.

6. That every local church be made dominantly evangelistic at home and missionary in its outreach.

7. That the teaching of stewardship of life, character, and possessions (the tithe) be taught as fundamental to Christianity.

8. That the prayer life of the church be zealously cultivated.

9. That a denomination-wide celebration be held on the State Fair grounds at Columbus, O., in June, 1919, as the culmination of the Centenary, to be followed by echo-meetings in every section.

10. That this World Program, now tentatively approved, be laid before the Board of Bishops at its meeting in October next and before the Boards of Foreign and Home Missions at their annual meetings in November, and be communicated to the authorities of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for their cooperation.

It is desired that the Centenary should be more than the celebration of one hundred years of missionary achievement at home and abroad; it should be a preparation for the second hundred years of larger, wiser, and greater missionary achievement.

THE STATUS OF THE WORK.—The following significant facts give in brief outline the extent of the work carried on under the auspices of the Board. The total number of missionaries is 1,568, including 458 men and 471 women, wives and single missionaries under the Board, 497 single women under the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and 142 other workers, mostly self-supporting missionaries in fields like South America. These are assisted by 13,110 native workers, representing an increase of 1,688 in the native staff. They care for an enrolled membership of 442,765, to which must be added the baptized children and unbaptized adherents, making a total community, according to the most recent advices to the Board in New York, of 673,657, with a new gain for the year of 12,351. The missionaries of the Board are responsible for 7,440 Sabbath schools, reporting 346,793 scholars.

The churches on the mission field contributed for self-support, including pastors' salaries, church building maintenance, and missionary purposes, $783,851.

The educational work of the Board reports 12 colleges and universities, with 2,155 students; 36 theological and Bible schools, with 1,496 students; and 94 high schools, with 14,258 students; 2,853 elementary schools, with 78,119 pupils, making a total student body of 96,021 receiving their life training in the institutions of the Board, a gain over the previous year of 2,967. Among the outstanding educational institutions might be mentioned the following: Reid Christian College and Isabella Thoburn College for Women at Lucknow, India; Philander Smith College for European Boys at Naini Tal; the Collins Institute at Calcutta; the Anglo-Chinese School at Singapore; the West China Union University at Chengtu; the Anglo-Chinese College and the Women's College of South China at Foochow; the William Nast College at Kiukiang; the Union University at Nanking; the Peking University at Peking; the Paichai High School and College at Seoul, Korea; the Anglo-Japanese College (Aoyama Gakuin) at Tokyo. In Europe there is the Collegio at Rome, Italy. In Africa, the College of West Africa at Monrovia. In South America, colleges at Concepcion, Iquique, and Santiago. In Mexico, schools in Mexico City and Puebla.

In addition to the above, there should be mentioned the Florence B. Nicholson Training Schools for Native Ministers at Baroda, India, and Manila, Philippine Islands; Bareilly Theological School, the William Taylor Training School at Hyderabad, India; the Thoburn Training School at Jubbulpore, India; the Biblical and Normal Schools at Hinghwa; the Union Theological Seminaries of Nanking and Foochow, China, and Seoul, Korea; the Fox Bible Training School at Kambove, Africa, the Martin Missions Institute at Frankfurt, Germany, and the Theological Training School at Upsala, Sweden.

Among the industrial training schools to be mentioned are those at Aligarh, Baroda, Nadiad, and Shahjahanpur, India; Penang, Malaysia; and the Bodine School at Kambove, in Africa.

A very successful medical work is conducted both by the Board and by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, the principal institutions being as follows: China: John L. Hopkins Memorial Hospital and the Elizabeth Sleeper Davis Memorial Hospital, Peking; Philander Smith Memorial Hospital, Nanking; the General Hospital, and the Woman's and Children's Hospital, Nanchang; Alden Speare Memorial Hospital, Yenpingfu; Wiley General Hospital, Kutien; Elizabeth Danforth Hospital, Kiukiang.

In Korea there are hospitals under the Board at Pyengyang, Haiju, and Wonju; and under the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society at Seoul and Pyengyang. India: Bareilly Woman's Hospital and Nurses' Training School; Zenana Hospital, Pithoragarh. Philippine Islands: Mary L. Johnston Hospital, Manila. Mexico: Good Samaritan Hospital, Guanaquato, Mexico.

From the data furnished by the missionaries in charge of the hospitals, the medical work of the Board is equipped with more than 500 beds in its various hospitals, accommodating annually 10,000 in-patients, with a total number of more than 200,000 treatments, including 2,000 major and 6,000 minor operations.

There are a growing number of orphanages under the Board and the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, including eighteen for boys, fifteen for girls, and one for both boys and girls in Southern Asia, three in China, four in Europe, and one in South America.

There are deaconesses stationed in Bombay, Calcutta, Kolar, Lucknow, and Madras, India; Penang, Singapore, and Taipeng, Malaysia; and in Manila, Philippine Islands. A very extensive deaconess work, organized under our Conferences in Germany and Austria-Hungary and known under the name of the Bethanien Verein, has a total of 600 nurses carrying government certificates, with finely equipped deaconess hospitals in Berlin, Hamburg, Frankfurt, and Zurich. These have done splendid service during the war, and have received distinguished recognition from the military authorities. The deaconesses in Russia and Finland have also responded to the call of service in their native countries.

The annual meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions was held in New York City, November 8-12, 1917.

Our Foreign Fields

In the distribution of responsibility among the various denominations for the evangelization of the non-Christian world the Methodist Episcopal Church has one hundred and fifty millions of people who look to her for the gospel message. Among these people the following significant developments are under way:

I. INDIA: THE MASS MOVEMENT.—The Board of Foreign Missions, at its annual meeting in November, 1916, recognizing the unique character of the situation in India and feeling deeply the urgency of making special provision to care for the exceptionally large number of converts, for the training of the people in Christian knowledge and life, and for the education of the young people of our Methodist community, sixty thousand of whom are without educational privileges, determined to appoint a special commission to devise the means by which this unprecedented Christward movement might be adequately conserved. As such a Commission they appointed Bishops Luther B. Wilson, William Burt, Thomas Nicholson, and Franklin Hamilton; Ministers, Fred B. Fisher, E. G. Richardson, and Edward S. Ninde; Laymen, Frank A. Horne, C. E. Welch, George Warren Brown.

The Commission organized by electing Dr. Fred B. Fisher as Executive Chairman and Mr. Theodore A. Hildreth and Dr. George H. Myers as field representatives.

Cooperating with this Commission of the Board is a Mass Movement Commission in India consisting of the following: Bishop J. W. Robinson, Chairman; Bishops J. E. Robinson and F. W. Warne, Vice-Chairmen; B. T. Badley, Secretary; Rockwell Clancy, F. R. Felt, A. A. Parker, Miss Lavinia Livermore, and Mrs. Rockwell Clancy.

There are nine districts in which the Mass Movement prevails in intensity: Bulandshahr, Delhi, Meerut, Muttra, Punjab, Roorkee, Tirhoot, Vikarabad, and Raichur-Gulbarga. In addition to the 150,000 people now so ready and willing to enter the church, there are more than 100,000 illiterate people being added to our village Christian community each quadrennium, and it is essential that a system of village schools adequate to meet this emergency be established.

II. THE PHILIPPINES.—Within the short space of seventeen years the missionaries of our church have established an Annual Conference among the Filipino people, with 40,000 church members, 52 ordained Filipinos who are members of Conference, assisted by 1,201 local preachers who minister in 1,183 preaching places.

III. MALAYSIA.—The Malay Conference includes all of British Malaysia, the Netherland Indies, and the British dependency of Sarawak. Within the limits of this territory there are 70,000,000 people of many races, including Malays, Japanese, Malayo-Siamese, Chinese, Siamese, Dyaks, Arabs, Eurasians, and Europeans. The outstanding development there is the great current of Chinese and Indian emigration flowing into it. In the Straits Settlements there are 385,000 Chinese against 248,000 Malays, while in the Federated Malay States the Malays number 420,000 and the Chinese 435,000. Our missions have come into vital and potential contact with both the original Malay stock and this new and important Chinese and Hindu emigration and the leavening influence of church organizations, supplemented by the power of strong educational institutions, is achieving notable work. It has spread all through the Malay Peninsula, planting schools and churches in all the principal centers. The work is almost entirely self-supporting, costing $232,000 a year to maintain, of which $200,000 is raised locally, the missionary appropriation being $32,000. From British Malaysia the work has spread into the great continental islands, of Java, Borneo, and Sumatra. In Java our first hospital has been erected. By an agreement with the Java government they provide seventy-five per cent of the cost of the erection and of maintenance. This gives our Mission an access to the Mohammedan population. It is a notable fact that the Netherlands Indies seem to be the most vulnerable spot in Islam, and in Java alone there are 20,000 Christians who are converts from Mohammedanism.

IV. THE FORWARD MOVEMENT IN CHINA.—The Methodist Episcopal Church has work in eight of the thirteen great provinces of China, organized into five Conferences and two Mission Conferences. We have 55,562 church members, 210 Chinese ministers, members of Annual Conferences, and the Chinese church raised in 1916 $51,589 for self-support. The church has entered upon a great Forward Movement which has before it the four following objectives: (1) To deepen and broaden the spiritual life of the churches, (2) to double the membership during the quadrennium, (3) to treble the Sunday school membership during the quadrennium, (4) to treble the amount raised in China for all forms of spiritual work during the quadrennium.

The initial stages of the Forward Movement have met with promising success. Many thousands of Methodists in the Foochow and Hinghwa Conferences are enrolled in the systematic study of the Bible. In view of the fact that nearly seventy per cent of our membership in China are men and about thirty per cent are women and children, a definite effort is being made to reach the families of our people. The financial goal of the Forward Movement is the raising during the quadrennium, 1916-1920, of $1,000,000 gold in China and America in addition to the amount at present contributed. Already it is reported that the Foochow and Hinghwa Conferences have raised $25,000 each, the Central China Conference $6,000, the Kiangsi Conference $5,000, and the North China Conference $40,000.

V. THE NEW DAY IN LATIN AMERICA.—The Methodist Episcopal Church entered South America in 1836. We have therefore a little more than eighty years of history back of us in the effort to give the principles of the living, vital Christianity to that great section of the Latin world. There are now two Conferences, with two Missions and a total of 10,353 church members. Missions are maintained in the seven republics of Argentine, Paraguay, Uruguay, Bolivia, Chile, Peru, and Panama. Bishop W. F. Oldham has Episcopal supervision, with his residence at Buenos Aires.

Mexico now seems on the eve of achieving a settled and permanent form of government. The situation there is full of hope for Protestantism. Notable progress is being made in measures of cooperation with other denominations and a Union Theological Seminary in Mexico City is already in operation.

VI. THE NEW LEADERSHIP IN AFRICA.—The Methodist Episcopal Church has six great mission fields in Africa, with a combined population of thirty millions of people of divers races and colors and speaking many languages and dialects. The church is organized into two Annual and four Mission Conferences and one Mission. We work under the flags of five different nations—Great Britain, France, Portugal, Belgium, and Liberia. Here we have 98 foreign missionaries, 279 native preachers and teachers, and 19,887 church members, while the enrollment in our schools is over 10,000. The Board owns property to the value of over $500,000. Bishop Eben S. Johnson has his residence at Umtali, Rhodesia, and Bishop Alexander P. Camphor at Monrovia, Liberia.

VII. THE ENLARGING OPPORTUNITY IN JAPAN AND KOREA.—The fear that the Christian Movement in Japan would be adversely affected by the present world war has not been realized. The people are giving unusual hearing to the gospel and recognizing Christianity as the basis of peace and the message of righteousness to all mankind.

The organization of the Japan Methodist Church has not diminished our responsibility for the evangelization of the Japanese people. We are working in the closest cooperation and good understanding with that growing new daughter of American Methodism, which now has a membership of 15,337 and maintains 5,334 Sunday schools, with 37,205 scholars, or nearly one third of the entire Sunday school enrollment of all the Protestant churches in Japan. The Methodist Episcopal Church is represented by 98 missionaries, of whom 46 are under the Board and 52 under the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

We have been at work thirty years in Korea, and have established a Christian church there organized into an Annual Conference, with 85 Korean ministers with 550 preaching places and a territory in which we have exclusive responsibility containing a population of 3,000,000, of whom 40,000 are members of our church. Our educational work maintains 168 schools, with 7,899 pupils. The value of the property owned by the Board of Foreign Missions is $397,488, while the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society owns $133,300, or a total property valuation of $531,-

Bishop Herbert Welch has Episcopal supervision of Japan and Korea, with residence at Seoul.

EUROPE AND THE WAR ZONE.—The General Conference of 1916 made provision for the appointment of a Commission on the work in Europe whose duty was designated to be that of studying the whole field of Methodism in Europe in order to formulate plans for the furtherance of our work therein. Each Conference and Mission within the European area was also requested to appoint a Committee to study the needs of the territory within its own bounds and to designate two members on each of these said Committees as a Committee on Conference with the Board's Commission in regard to the work in all our fields in Europe. The Commission was instructed to then formulate plans and present the same to the Board of Foreign Missions for such as it may be well for the Board to take and that final report be made to the General Conference.

In harmony with the above action the Board of Foreign Missions has appointed the following as said Commission: Bishops L. B. Wilson and William O. Shepard; John R. Mott, Charles M. Stuart, Henry Wade Rogers, L. H. Murlin, Hanford Crawford, Albert J. Nast, W. R. Wedder- spoon, James R. Joy, S. Earl Taylor, and Frank Mason North; ex-officio members, Bishops John L. Nuelsen and William F. Anderson.

This Commission is now engaged in its work of investigation.

More than one half of the 74,700 members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Europe live in belligerent countries. Of our twelve Annual and Mission Conferences only four are in neutral countries. Bishop Nuelsen estimates that at least 150 ordained preachers and approximately 5,000 laymen are serving on the various battle lines. The economic strain under which our Methodist people are living and working is terrific, for while the earning power has been largely reduced, the cost for the necessities of life has trebled. Heavy demands are made upon the people, not only by the government, but also by private and semi-official organizations, for relief at home and abroad. In spite of this situation, encouraging progress in church activities has been made in neutral countries. In Switzerland the Deaconess Association has erected a commodious Hospital and Home in Zurich and has purchased an ideal Rest Home surrounded by spacious grounds overlooking Lake Thun in the Bernese Alps. Our great institutional church at Copenhagen, Denmark, has been rebuilt and suitable buildings for our deaconesses secured in Christiania and Bergen, Norway. In Germany one hundred of our deaconesses are with the military hospitals, while our Deaconess Hospitals in various great centers and the Martin Missions Institute at Frankfurt are filled with the wounded. Our missionaries in other European countries are: Dr. George A. Simons in Petrograd, Dr. Ernest W. Bysshe at Grenoble, Dr. B. M. Tipple and Dr. A. W. Greenman at Rome, and Dr. E. E. Count on furlough at Sofia.

Growing out of the European War a world situation has developed, the facts of which were presented to the General Conference in a joint report by the Board of Foreign Missions, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and the Bishops supervising work on the foreign field. Deeply moved by this compelling statement, the General Conference directed that it be printed and a copy sent to each pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church throughout the world, with a recommendation that it be read to the public congregation, and our people called to prayer that the church may meet her full duty in this day of responsibility and of world opportunity. A direct appeal was also issued by the Board of Foreign Missions that Passion Week be observed as a week of Self-Denial, and that an offering be taken in all our churches to meet the unparalleled situation which confronts the Board of Foreign Missions throughout the world. The offering amounted to $78,000,

WORLD OUTLOOK, the official publication of the Board of Foreign Missions, is now completing its third year and continues to receive most cordial approval from without as well as within denominational limits, and reports of its very great value are constantly being received.

Notwithstanding the greatly increased cost of production and without increase of subscription price or lowering of the standard of the magazine, World Outlook is holding its own from a business point of view, and is gaining steadily in circulation.

The advertising rates will be increased the first of January, 1918, on account of the increased circulation and the further fact that all of the space available is now in demand.

Dr. S. Earl Taylor is director, Willard Price editor, and Ed. M. Willis business manager.

MISSIONARY NEWS is the latest of the official periodicals of the Board of Foreign Missions. It appears monthly and because of its usefulness has been doubled in size without increasing the subscription price, which is ten cents a year.

Its editorial board consists of James M. Taylor, S. Earl Taylor, Frank Mason North, and George M. Fowles. It has 100,000 subscribers, contains letters, articles, and news giving the compelling facts and incidents of all mission fields, and is designed by the Board to keep the rank and file of our church membership in touch with the missions and missionaries. It is being introduced in increasing numbers by our pastors, and, where properly used, has been known to double contributions to the benevolences.

BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION

The wheels of this great machine are getting into operation. One year ago the Department Heads had not been chosen or the departments organized. Now they are at work not only on the great problems that generally would claim their attention, but the war with the encampments and cantonments has led them to the performance of a great duty.

Rural

The Rural Church Conference, held at Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., under the auspices of the Seminary, the Board of Sunday Schools and the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, is typical of a phase of the new service being rendered by the Department of Rural Work of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Over eighty ministers, some from as far north as Minnesota and as far east as Ohio, and fifty Garrett students were present to discuss modern methods of rural church and Sunday school work with those who had already "done it."

With the cooperation of the Department of Rural Work, a study of Methodism in relation to the rural life of the district and in relation to the general religious situation on the Portsmouth District, Ohio Conference, was made by Rev. J. B. Hawk, District Superintendent, the necessary funds being raised locally. A Polish student from Syracuse University assisted in making an intensive study of the religious situation in the Coke Mission Field in western Pennsylvania. On the Brookhaven District, Mississippi Conference, a colored student from Gammon Theological Seminary made a survey of the religious situation as a basis for the formation of a constructive program of cooperative denomination work.

The cooperative denomination work consists of the establishment of relations with districts whereby the Rural Department assists in carrying out a program leading to a trained ministry in sympathy with rural work and receiving a living salary of $1,200 to $1,500 per year on every charge in the district. A comprehensive survey of the religious life of the district is the first step in the cooperative relationship and a long-time constructive program is worked out by the Rural Department and the district to meet conditions revealed by the survey. Rural clinics or leadership training stations are also being established in connection with theological seminaries and colleges.

Evangelism

A new type of training in Evangelism has been tried out in several areas by the Department of Evangelism. The district superintendent and one pastor from each district have been called together for a two-days' discussion of everything essential to successful pastoral evangelism. This was followed by group meetings throughout each district, so arranged as to carry the instruction and inspiration of the areal meeting to each local church. An excellent set of questionnaires, such as were used at these areal meetings, has been made available for the church at large. This includes: Every pastor his own Evangelist; Every Sunday school officer and teacher his own Evangelist; Every Christian home its own Evangelist; The making of a constituency roll by every pastor; A program for the year; A definite goal of net increase and Decision days and the conservation of results.

It is significant that hereafter the Department of Evangelism of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension will have a record of each vocational evangelist appointed in all of the Annual Conferences, and only such evangelists as this Department accredits will be employed.

Evangelism and community service are happily united in two department booklets: "Organizing a District for Community Service" and "Community Service for the Local Church."

New Methods in Helping the Cities

The Opportunity Fund of the Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church consists of the net increases in collections for the past year, and all undesignated legacies and bequests, the whole to be administered by the Executive Committee on the recommendation of the Department with the concurrence of the Corresponding Secretary. It is the policy of the Board to place this fund where the recipients will respond by securing at least three dollars in addition for every dollar appropriated by the Board. During the last year $20,000 was appropriated to Old Broadway Methodist Episcopal Church, Cleveland, a great Bohemian center. This made a total of $25,000 given to this church by the Board. $155,000 to $200,000 will be the amount put into the new community church center to be built for a great and growing population. Mr. O. M. Stafford, who for years has been the Sunday school superintendent here, has been the leader in this great enterprise. The pastor, Dr. Elmer E. Pearce, has been a close second. The Superintendent of the Department of City Work, Bishop Anderson, and the District Superintendent have assisted in the final roundup.

$25,000 was appropriated to Chicago Methodism in connection with their campaign for $500,000. The readjustments which will be made in Chicago include the following: The Chicago City Missionary and Church Extension Society has bought the First Swedish Methodist Episcopal Church in the heart of Little Italy for use among the Italians, and the First German Methodist Episcopal Church in the heart of the Negro belt for use among Negroes. Old Centenary Church is to be transformed into a religious, industrial, and social center in connection with Saint Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, where there is a great student population.

Morgan Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Boston, received $25,000 from this fund as a part of a total of $155,000 which has been raised for the Church of All Nations by Dr. E. J. Helms, the pastor.

The impetus and inspiration, as well as the help given by this fund, indicate great future possibilities for investments of this sort.

The City Department of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church aided largely in a campaign for raising the final amount in Cleveland and helped start a campaign among Saint Louis Methodists for $250,000, a campaign for $10,000 a year for five years at Tulsa, Okla., and a campaign for $5,000 a year for five years at Joplin, Mo. At both of these last named places City Societies have been organized during the year.

The Invasion from Dixie

The exodus of 200,000 Negroes from the South northward has created an unprecedented problem in religious work among Negroes. It is depleting many of our Negro churches in the South, as is seen from the following numbers who left from a few charges on the Holly Springs District, Upper Mississippi Conference: Oxford Circuit, 75; Water Valley, 40; Varden Circuit, 122; Sallis Circuit, 85; Grenada Circuit, 78. This is typical of the depletion which our own Negro churches in the South are undergoing. The problem of conserving work in many places is serious. In the North a survey made by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church shows a problem, not only among Negroes, but a serious social condition confronting the white population. The sudden coming of 75,000 Negroes in Chicago, 10,000 in Pittsburgh, 25,000 in Detroit, 60,000 in Philadelphia, and proportionate numbers in other cities, has put the church of Jesus Christ to a severe test. The City Society of Philadelphia erected a huge tent for services during the summer and other organizations of the Methodist Episcopal Church are aiding in the desperate effort to bring the church up to its responsibility in other places.

The task as it concerns the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension is under the direction of the Department of Evangelism. Each bishop heads a special Areal Commission of War Emergency, which, in cooperation with the Board, decides what shall be done at each camp, selects the best man for the place, and acts in an advisory relationship to the actual camp ministry.

Greeting the Italian

The dissolution last fall of the Italian Mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church placed responsibility for Methodist Episcopal Italian Work in the hands of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. There are about 2,500,000 Italians in the United States, only 20,000 of whom are members of any Protestant church. The majority of the Italians in this country are without church relationship, as they have drifted away from the Catholic Church and have not yet come into vital contact with evangelical Christianity. Our own church, which has ministered to Italians in this country for forty years, now has 53 Italian churches and missions, 52 Italian ministers, 2 American pastors doing Italian work, 3,402 full members, 1,839 probationers, 42 Sunday schools, 4,927 Sunday school pupils. An Italian Christian Advocate, La Fiaccola, is published weekly.

Under the auspices of the Bureau of Foreign Work of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church. A Conference for City Society Superintendents and District Superintendents having oversight of Italian work was held at Washington Square Methodist Episcopal Church, New York City, June 14 and 15, 1917. Those present were guests of the New York City Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Brooklyn and Long Island Church Society. The purpose of this meeting was to bring before those having administrative functions in connection with Italian work, illustrations of successful work in our own and other denominations, and to provide opportunity for frank discussion of existing problems by our own administrators having oversight of Italian work. To this end representative Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, and Protestant Episcopal Italian pastors and deaconesses presented the work which they are doing in their local parishes. The religious, social, and political status of the Italian in Italy and the United States was treated, and administrative problems peculiar to Methodist Italy were discussed. Bishop Joseph F. Berr, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, and Dr. A. W. Harris, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Education, were present and presided at the several sessions.

The following practical program for the local Italian church is one of the fruitful results of this Conference:

1. Approach to the Family as a Whole:

- (a) Home visitor, a woman speaking Italian with the American training and American spirit. Such a one, bi-lingual, could work with little children in English, conduct older classes possibly in Italian. The problem is one of young women as well as mothers. The future objective to be young Italian women thoroughly trained.
- (b) Family gathering for everybody in the church parlors or church house. Music, games, pictures, etc. Recognize the family unit.
- (c) Meetings in the home. The coming of the stranger draws all the neighbors in so that a program may be used. Special attention to home meetings for girls.

2. Approach in Italian for Adult Italian Groups:

- (a) Religious services of worship in Italian, (b) bi-lingual staff members, a lawyer, physician, employment agent, and a printer, whose services may be used for help among the Italians in the community. (c) Mothers' Club in Italian, (d) Men's Club for learning English and citizenship [civic questions, citizen papers, etc.]. (e) Use of Italian literature, (f) religious instruction in Italian, (g) illustrated lectures, (h) Italian patriotism as point of contact [Italian days, the 20th of September, etc.], (i) make use of musical interest.

3. Approach in English to Children and Young People:

- (a) Attendance at English church services, (b) religious instruction [Sunday school], (c) related week-day club activities, emphasis on expressional work, such as Recreational Club, Gymnasium Club, Choral Societies, Dramatic Clubs, Boy Scouts, Knights of King Arthur, Campfire Girls, Girl Scouts, sewing, painting, drawing, and sculpturing, (d) illustrated lectures and moving pictures, (e) Daily Vacation Bible School, (f) Flower Mission, (g) Fresh Air Work, (h) Camps.

An Italian Ministerial Institute was held at the Jefferson Park Methodist Episcopal Church (Italian), June 27-28, to discuss the putting of the above program into effect. Here in the heart of Little Italy, where all the tragedies of human life are pictured in the faces of the people, and all life's battles are being fought out, thirty Italian Methodist Episcopal ministers, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, resident bishop of the New York Area, and representatives of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, spent two days considering the problem of the local church.

All of the discussions but two were led by Italian pastors. The following telegram was sent to President Wilson:

"The Italian ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church, meeting under the auspices of the Bureau of Foreign Work of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the great metropolis, open their session by respectfully begging to assure you of their loyalty to the American ideal of a world-wide triumphant Democracy, the forerunner of God's Kingdom. They assert they are second to none in their patriotism for their adopted country and prayerfully ask divine guidance and blessings upon you and upon the fortunes of American participation in the War."

Lengthening the Trail

The Department of Church Extension of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church has, among other things, for the past year been giving attention to the collection of long-standing loans. That is, loans that have been made to churches during the years past which have never been returned by these churches or which have never had interest paid on them. A large number of these have been gathered in and the money has been available for further work. Another significant phase of the Church Extension side of our Home Mission work is seen in the recent dedication of an $80,000 church at Hastings, Neb. In 1880 a building was made possible in that place by a $250 loan and a gift somewhat larger. After the dedication of the new church last spring, the congregation returned the $250 loan made years ago in order that it might start out rendering service in some other place. Memorial churches, aid in building, gifts and loans, all together make up a tremendous ministry that is being done through this department. Since Church Extension work began in the Methodist Episcopal Church, some 17,000 Methodist Episcopal churches have been aided in their work of starting a new church or of remodeling an old one. To-day the Department of Church Extension advises in the matter of building plans as well as in the giving of gifts and the making of loans.

The Council of Cities

In accordance with the action of the General Conference of 1916 the Department of City Work called the First Annual Council of Cities in Chicago, at the Sherman Hotel, April 20-21, 1917. This Council, composed of the Corresponding Secretary and the Superintendent of City Work of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and two delegates from each duly organized City Society, was entertained while in session by the Chicago Home Missionary and Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. There were present at this meeting sixty men from fifty different cities. George G. Hollingshead served as secretary. The scope of the discussions is seen in the following subjects presented: The Relation of the City Society to Down-town Churches and Suburban Communities; The District Superintendent—Administration Co-extensive with the City and Its Suburbs; Spiritual Values of Social, Institutional, and Industrial Efforts; Training an Adequate Leadership for City Work; What Other Denominations are Doing in the Way of Special Training and Their Methods; How to Reach the Foreigner; How Can the Department of City Work of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church More Effectively Cooperate with the City Societies? The Message and Program of a Local Church in a Cosmopolitan Community; and How to Reach the Unchurched Masses in the Big Cities. The Council of Cities voted its "belief in the value of this Council as a factor in the better understanding of the problems which confront us, and as a stimulant of enthusiasm and service in the work ahead of us."

The report of the Committee on Suggestions and Recommendation of Policy of the Council of Cities (Thomas Nicholson, E. J. Helms, Orrin W. Auman, W. A. Layton, F. W. Mueller) contained the following suggestions and recommendations:

"The publishing of at least the substance of the addresses and discussions; approval of the plan to provide scholarships to be administered by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church for training carefully selected young men for non-English-speaking leadership; approval of the efforts being made to prepare a bi-lingual ministry; emphasized the need of a bureau of exchange which will put workers discovered in Epworth League and similar institutes in touch with the tasks needing them and advise them as to specific training for specific tasks; and commended this need to the joint attention of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension and the Board of Education, called attention to the need of endowments for our great "down-town" enterprises; commended the present plan of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension Opportunity Fund; urged liberal support of the reorganized Board of Home Missions and Church Extension; commended the Centenary plans adopted by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension; urged hearty cooperation with the plans of Comity and Cooperation projected by the federation of churches in our cities."

John H. Race, Treasurer; Rev. D. Lee Aultman, Recording Secretary; Rev. P. J. Maveety and I. Garland Penn, Corresponding Secretaries.

This Society was organized August 7 and 8, 1866, a little over fifty years ago, in Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, Cincinnati, O. Its purpose, as stated in the first charter, was "For the relief and education of Freedmen and others, especially in cooperation with the Missionary and Church Extension Societies of the Methodist Episcopal Church."

At that time the poverty, inexperience, and ignorance of the recently emancipated slaves constituted a mighty appeal to the Christian and philanthropic impulses of the nation. The church and the school house have ever been the greatest instrumentalities for the uplift of races. They are to-day. Soon after the organization of the Society, schools were established at suitable centers in all of the Southern States.

In over half a century 200,000 young men and young women have been educated and trained in these schools, and have been sent out as ministers, physicians, Sunday school teachers, and Christian leaders to the ten millions of the Negro race in the United States.

THE TASK TO-DAY

Three hundred and fifty thousand colored members of the Methodist Episcopal Church are to-day dependent upon these Freedmen's Aid schools for their ministers, Sunday school teachers, and other trained leaders. With or without Methodist unification, in a separate regional jurisdiction or independent, they will still require the sympathy and financial help of their white brethren in the solution of their problems and handicaps growing out of slavery and poverty. The future of the Negro race in America is in the hands of the trained leaders educated in these and similar schools. No schools, no uplift; poor schools, little progress; strong schools, Christian teachers, the salvation of a race.

LINCOLN SUNDAY

By order of the General Conference, each pastor is directed to observe the Sunday nearest to Abraham Lincoln's birthday, in honor of the emancipation of the Negro race from slavery, and to help its further advance into the freedom of Christian service and character. February 10, 1918, will be observed as Lincoln Sunday throughout the church. A suitable program is being prepared by the Freedmen's Aid Society, and will be sent on request in numbers as required to any pastor, Sunday school superintendent, or Epworth League president, without cost.

APPORTIONMENT FOR 1918

The Commission on Finance, after a careful consideration of all the needs of this Society, has apportioned to the entire church for this year, $270,000 as a minimum absolutely necessary to carry on the work on its present basis. To provide for new buildings and increased equipment an advanced apportionment of $50,000 is requested by the Commission. If each church will raise its apportionment, the full minimum will be reached, and if in addition, each Sunday school and Epworth League would observe Lincoln Sunday, and take a small offering, the advanced apportionment of $50,000 for buildings and equipment would be met.

ATTENDANCE

Last year there were in these twenty-one schools five thousand two hundred and seventy-nine students, and three hundred and seventeen teachers. In these institutions of learning young people are prepared for all departments of life. While special emphasis is constantly laid upon moral and religious training, the cultivation of the hand is not neglected. Trades and industries, including agriculture and truck gardening, are taught the boys, with all forms of domestic science to the girls. An attempt is made, and heretofore has been eminently successful, to provide such an educational training as shall fit these young men and women to go out among the people of their own race in the South, and earn an honest living, in some useful profession or occupation; so that each individual shall not only live a better life, but shall also stimulate others to higher ideals in morals and religion, and to greater industry in useful service.

ANNUITIES AND SPECIAL GIFTS

In addition to the offerings from the churches, the Society receives many gifts of large amounts during each year. For those who wish to contribute to the work of these schools, and who need the income from their money while they live, the Society pays a liberal annuity during the lifetime of the donor. This makes sure that such gifts shall go on fulfilling a great commission, in the name of these donors for all time to come.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE BOARD

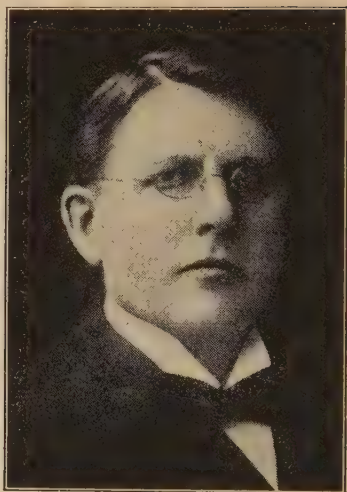

The Board of Education, under the chairmanship of Bishop McDowell, is the central agency for promoting and supervising the educational interests of the church. To this important responsibility the General Conference has assigned thirty-six of her representative men as ministerial and lay members from every General Conference district in the church. The names of the members may be found on page 48.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church has arisen in response to needs. Each General Conference delegates to it wider powers and added responsibility for service. The naturalness of this growth is striking and the end is not yet.

The Board was established fifty years ago to raise and care for a fund

DR. ABRAM W. HARRIS
CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

DR. JOHN W. HANCHER

to be used to help Methodist boys and girls through college. The source of this fund is a collection taken in the churches on Children's Day. The establishment and celebration of Children's Day originated with the Board and serves a double purpose—the collection, and the presentation once a year of the claims and advantages of higher education. The aggregate annual contribution to the fund is now about $85,000. To this must be added loans paid back, for the fund is a perpetual, a revolving fund, and what comes in from one borrower goes very promptly out to help another student. The aggregate of loans made exceeds two million dollars, and the present value of the fund very much exceeds a million dollars. Interest does not begin until after the borrower has left school, is at the rate of four per cent, and is remitted on all sums paid within the first five years out of school. These are very generous terms, and a great host of borrowers have made serious sacrifice to repay what they owed promptly and so help others. Children's Day has undoubtedly sown the seed of a college ambition very widely throughout the Methodist Church.

About twenty-five years ago the Board was given authority to cooperate with the University Senate of the church in the maintenance of standards of endowment, equipment, and scholastic work in our colleges and schools. This has resulted in the rapid improvement of our schools and gives assurance that they are what they claim to be.

About twenty years ago the Board undertook the upbuilding of a fund for the aid of institutions. A little later the General Conference ordered and established a public collection in all the churches in the general interest of education, one fifth of which comes to the Board and is used chiefly for the aid of institutions. From this fund appropriations are made to schools in need of financial assistance, those upon the frontier, etc.

About eight years ago the Board was made responsible for the oversight and care of a group of schools for white persons in the South. Most of these are in the highlands among the rugged population, who have been isolated by their religious, political, and economic conditions. They were always opposed to slavery; they sympathized with the North in the war between the States; very few of them went with the Southern Methodist Church. They are people of great promise who make the best use of their often very limited educational opportunities. The aid given them, all too small, is a great investment for the church and for the country. The funds available for this purpose have been pitifully insufficient, but they have produced remarkable results.

The Board has been active in planning for the effective presentation of the Christian appeal in the schools and colleges of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Under action of the General Conference, this Board cooperates with the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension in providing for the religious care of students in State universities.

The Board makes studies and surveys of educational problems in connection with its work, prepares and publishes educational literature, cooperates with our colleges in campaigns for the raising of funds, acts as a clearing house for administrative counsel and information, serves as a Bureau for Methodist teachers, and cooperates with educational boards of other denominations in order to prevent duplication of work.

Effective administration demands the most modern office safeguards and organization. Mr. John C. Burg, Assistant Treasurer, has simplified into departments and therefore effectualized the entire office organization of labor and finance in accord with the best approved usage.

Dr. Hancher has capitalized the genius of Methodism for organization in the great Jubilee Campaigns. Through these Methodist wealth has been spiritualized, her institutions empowered, her youth attracted to the heights.

PUBLICITY AND LITERATURE

The experiences of The Jubilee have shown that publicity must precede progress. Within the somewhat serious financial limitations of the Board an effort is made to issue and distribute literature on Christian Education and leadership. It is the hope that every Conference may be reached by exhibits and bulletins. A comprehensive publicity program is now being prepared and organized by Dr. H. W. Hurt. It is earnestly to be hoped that increased contributions for the work of the Board will make possible further publicity development.

Expert cooperation in surveys and counsel in problems of standards and organization may be secured through the Board.

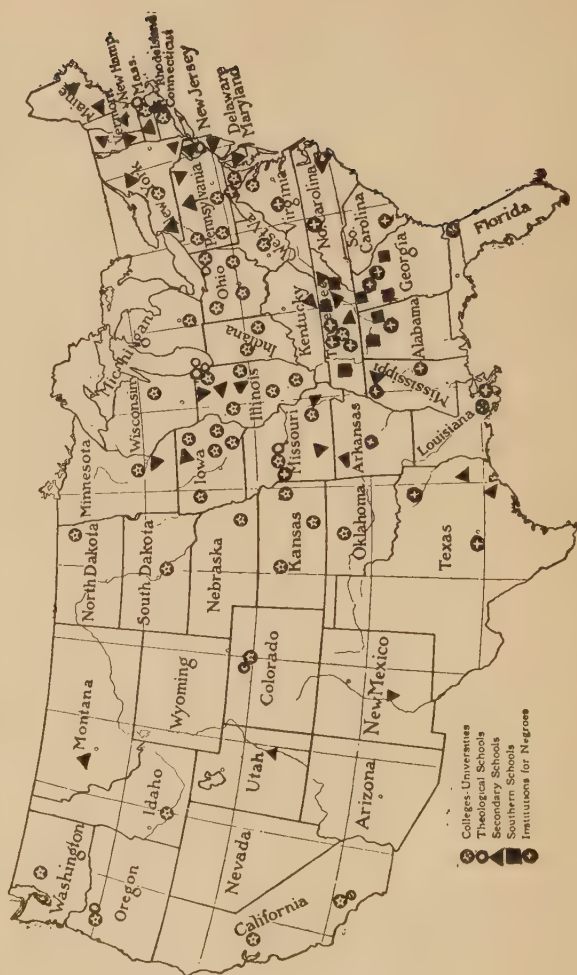

THE CHRISTIAN STUDENT

Since its initiation under Bishop McDowell, The Christian Student has been issued quarterly and sent to the ministry of the church and to those who have contributed one dollar or more to the Children's Day Fund. It contains information and discussion and reviews of current educational problems and progress.

"SIX-FOOT INTEREST"

The Board of Education reminds Methodism of the possibilities in the schools for the Southern Highlanders. OBLIGATION HERE MEETS OPPORTUNITY. These loyal non-slave-holding Methodists were socially and economically isolated because of their religious and abolitionist stand. Gradually they were forced to the uplands. To-day Methodism would open to them the door of opportunity through the Jubilee Aid of Institutions Fund.

RELIGIOUS WORK DEPARTMENT

Dr. G. Franklin Ream, Secretary

If the social order is to be Christianized, the leaders must come in large measure from Christian colleges. In institutions under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church the Board of Education promotes evangelistic campaigns, courses in religion, Christian activity, and training for Christian service. Hundreds of decisions for the Christian life are made every year and some of the strongest leaders of young people are devoting time to this work.

The church recognizes a responsibility for the care of Methodist young people in all educational institutions, and is now through this department conserving and promoting the religious life of Methodist students in State universities.

THE EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES

The vital statistics for these institutions are compiled biennially and will be due to appear next year. The 1917 METHODIST YEAR BOOK therefore contains the most recent data now available and for that reason it is not repeated here.

METHODIST BROTHERHOOD

The General Conference of 1916 adopted the following report, which was presented by the Committee on Brotherhoods, indorsed by the Committee on Sunday Schools: "The Committee recommends that the action of the Managing Board of the Methodist Brotherhood and the Board of Sunday Schools, by which the connectional promotion of the Brotherhood should be directed by the Board of Sunday Schools, be approved and continued in force."

This report, of course, calls for the omission from the Discipline of all references to the connectional organization of the Brotherhood, leaving in, however, all the references to the Brotherhood as a local organization. The action calls for the insertion of the following statement in the chapter on the Board of Sunday Schools: "It shall also be the duty of said Board to promote such organizations of men as the organized Bible class, Brotherhood, and kindred organizations."

As a result of this action by the General Conference, the Brotherhood no longer exists as a distinct connectional organization. The Board of Sunday Schools is charged with the responsibility of promoting all men's organizations, including the Brotherhood. The Brotherhood as a local organization, to be established in connection with any given church, remains intact. The Board of Sunday Schools stands ready to provide chapters of the Brotherhood with literature, emblems, charters, and such supplies as they may require. The Adult Department of the Board of Sunday Schools has immediate charge of the different forms of men's organizations established within the church.

There are two outstanding advantages in the provision made by the General Conference. First, a single Board of the church has under its direction the work of enlisting and organizing the men of the churches and communities. The church is relieved of duplications, embarrassing parallel movements, and superfluous expense. We have at last a unified movement for men. Second, the local church is charged with the responsibility of determining the particular form its organization of men shall take. No connectional plan can ever hope to secure hearty response from any large number of local churches unless provision is made for flexibility and diversity. Connectional unity does not require uniformity. The essentials of connectional unity are a common aim and cooperation in organized activities.

The purpose now is to have every Bible Class of men embody in its program social and fraternal activities such as characterize the Brotherhoods, and to have every Brotherhood organization emphasize Bible study and activities of worship such as characterize Bible class organization.

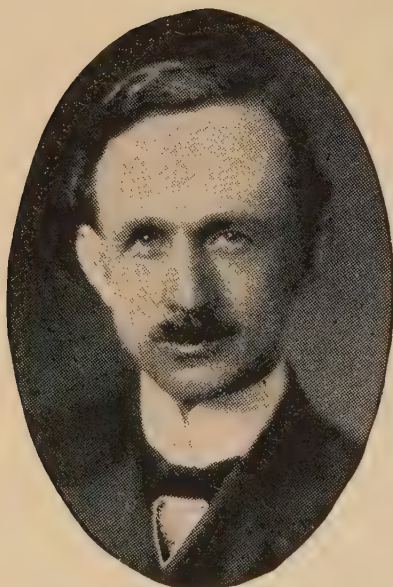

There are enrolled in the Men's Bible Class and Brotherhood organizations of Methodism about 500,000 men, a considerable army. Another million of men await enlistment.

BOARD OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

HEADQUARTERS: 58 East Washington Street, Chicago, Ill. Rev. Edgar Blake, Corresponding Secretary.

DUTIES.—The Discipline provides that the Board of Sunday Schools shall have "general oversight of all the Sunday school interests of the Methodist Episcopal Church." "It shall be the duty of said Board to found Sunday schools in needy neighborhoods; to contribute to the support of Sunday schools requiring assistance; to educate the church in all phases of Sunday school work, constantly endeavoring to raise ideals and improve methods; to determine the Sunday school curriculum, including the courses for teacher training; and, in general, to give impulse and direction to the study of the Bible in the church."

ACTIVITIES.—The Board of Sunday Schools was created by the action of the General Conference of 1908 and made responsible for the supervision of all the Sunday school work of the church, both home and foreign. Since its organization Methodism has witnessed the most remarkable Sunday school awakening in its history.

NUMERICAL GROWTH. — The increase in our Sunday school membership from 1908 to 1915 is one of the most striking achievements in the story of Methodism. The striking annual increase has leaped from 35,000 in the ten years preceding 1908 to more than 150,000 a year in the eight years since 1908. The actual increase has gone from 353,008 (1897-1907) to 1,252,215 (1908-1915). Our gain in the eight years since the organization of the Board of Sunday Schools has been nearly four times greater than our gains for the ten years preceding. There are only four denominations in America whose total Sunday school membership equals our gains alone for the past eight years. We closed the year 1915 with an enrollment of 4,598,621. If the present rate of increase continues we shall close the year 1917 with more than five millions in the Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church. This is by far the largest single Sunday school constituency in the entire world. There have been many remarkable developments in the history of American Methodism, but never one of such magnitude as this one.

EVANGELISM. — The evangelistic results have been even more notable than the numerical. In 1907 144,252 Sunday school scholars were converted, and 236,525 in 1915, a gain of 92,273, more than sixty per cent in eight years in the number of conversions reported annually. During this period, 1908-1915, our Methodist Episcopal Sunday schools have reported the conversion of 1,401,705 scholars. The number of conversions has exceeded the increase in Sunday school membership during this time by 158,490. There have been many notable evangelistic achievements in the history of Methodism, but never one of such immense proportions as this one.

But the most significant item in the evangelistic achievement is its effect upon the church. For three decades there was a steadily decreasing ratio of increase in the membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church as follows: 1880-1890, thirty-one per cent; 1890-1900, twenty-eight per cent; 1900-1910, nineteen per cent. The fear was expressed by many thoughtful minds that Methodism had reached the zenith of its power and had entered upon its decline. Since the Sunday school movement began to make its power felt the situation has been completely changed. The gain in our church membership from 1908-1915 was nearly double the gain from 1900-1907. The gain in church membership during the last four years, 1912-1915, is the largest of any quadrennium in our history. The increase (488,457) during the last four years, 1912-1915, is greater than the increase (475,488) in the twelve years from 1896-1908. The Methodist Episcopal Church never experienced such a great ingathering as in the last quadrennium of its history.

It is of immense significance that the increase in the number of Sunday school scholars who are church members (633,095), 1912-1915, exceeds the increase in church membership (488,457) during the same years by 144,638. The number of Sunday school scholars who have united with the church in the last four years is sufficient to provide our entire net increase of church membership during that time with more than 140,000 additional to make good our losses by deaths and removals.

BENEVOLENCES.—The advance in the offerings of the Sunday school to the benevolent enterprises of the church is quite as impressive as the numerical and evangelistic results. In 1907 the missionary offerings of the Sunday school amounted to $524,852. In 1915 they amounted to $646,988, an increase of $122,136. The total missionary offerings of the Sunday school in the eight years, 1900-1907, amounted to $3,877,203. The same offerings amounted to $4,693,888 in the years 1908-1915. The missionary offerings of the Sunday school were $816,685 larger in the eight years of the new Sunday school movement than in the eight years preceding. Thus the cause of Missions alone has profited by an increase of more than $800,000 in two quadrenniums. The total offerings of the Sunday schools to all the missionary and benevolent enterprises of the church has amounted to more than five and one half millions of dollars during the last eight years.

AID TO NEEDY SCHOOLS.—The Board of Sunday Schools is required by its charter to give aid to such of our needy Sunday schools as must have assistance in their work. More than 5,000 grants-in-aid have been made, and $42,119.29 has been expended in assisting needy schools during the last eight years. The appreciations that have come to the Board will reveal not only the gratitude of those who have been helped, but the worthiness of the cause: "Last year you helped us with a needy Sunday school in a neighborhood untouched by any English-preaching service. Our average attendance for the summer at the school was forty-four. During the past winter I have received twenty-two of these people into full membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church of ——. Often ten to twenty-five of them came into the mid-week prayer service during the winter with the thermometer ranging from zero to twenty-six below. Their interest and loyalty have led our people into a quickened interest of church life and helped to develop a deeper church consciousness and religious expression. Two weeks ago a brother about forty-five years of age said: 'Will you take me into the membership of your church? I believe it will help me to be a better man all around.' I received him in the church at ——. He lives seven miles north of here. I state this as an encouragement to your Board and to try and enlist a little sacrificial service (if such it can be called) from the pastors to branch out and do a little extensive work as a feed box to the city charge."

EXTENSION.—The Board of Sunday Schools is supporting twenty-six Sunday school missionaries and workers who devote their time to the organization of new schools in new and neglected fields and the building up of schools already organized. Since 1908 its missionaries have organized more than 2,500 new Sunday schools, from which nearly 700 Methodist Episcopal churches have been organized, more than 300 churches and parsonages built, and more than $500,000 in property values returned to the denomination.

FOREIGN.—The Board of Sunday Schools also supports our Sunday school work in the foreign field. It makes grants of money for the preparation and purchase of Sunday school literature and supplies for the various fields, and supports missionaries who devote all of their time to the development of the Sunday school work of their respective fields. It has missionaries in the following fields working under its direction: Norway, Sweden, Germany, India, China, Korea, Japan, the Philippines, and Africa.

SUPPORT.—The Board of Sunday Schools is supported by free-will offerings of our Methodist Sunday schools and churches. By action of the General Conference, it is entitled to and should receive an annual offering from every Methodist Episcopal Sunday school and church. It is also entitled to and should receive ten per cent of the Sunday school missionary offering. The Commission on Finance, after investigation of the work and needs of the Board of Sunday Schools, has apportioned the church $210,000 for its support. It has first claim upon the support of the church for Sunday school work. The General Conference has said that no money for Sunday school purposes shall be diverted to other organizations until the needs of the Sunday school have been fully met.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

The Society begins its second century with trials and tribulations which are part of all institutions having international relations. The effect of the war which has been ravaging the earth is felt in all our Agencies at home and abroad. The cost of production has leaped to unprecedented heights. Everything that has to do with the manufacture of our Scriptures has increased in price, and the increased cost of living has affected our colportage everywhere. The Society also had to work with a lessened income and to reduce its appropriations both at home and abroad so that it is surprising that its issues have not fallen off more seriously than they have. The issues for the last year of record ending December 31, 1916, reach a total of 5,604,768 volumes, instead of 7,761,377 for the preceding year. The falling off is in Scripture Portions, for the issues of New Testaments increased owing probably to the extensive use of the New Testament among the soldiers. The total figures for the one hundred and one years are 123,292,359 volumes. It is of especial interest to note that 73,858,152 have been issued in America and 49,454,207 volumes in foreign lands. A considerable part of those issued in America have been circulated extensively in Latin America, but the balance shows how faithfully the Society has ministered to the needs of this Republic and the adjacent countries, and yet how wisely it has been able to serve the missionary world:

The Society's finances show receipts amounting to $673,019.37, and charges amounting to $742,084.94. The principal sources of income have been gifts from Churches, Auxiliary and other Bible Societies, individuals, legacies, income from legal trusts and from the sale of Scriptures which latter never covers the cost of production to say nothing of their distribution. The principal charges are costs of Scriptures, plates, salaries of agents, Agency Secretaries, clerks, etc., in the Home and Foreign Agencies, rent and storage, transportation, colporteurs' wages, colporteurs' expenses in the Home and Foreign Agencies, the Centennial expenses and the general salaries and expenses. These are given in the Report of the Board of Managers and in full detail with relation to each Agency both

Home and Foreign in the general Report of the Society which will be sent to any one on receipt of twenty-five cents to cover the postage on the same. The Society also publishes these facts in a brief Story in pamphlet form which will be sent gratuitously to any one who may desire it. The monthly activities of this world-wide work are narrated in the Bible Society Record which tells the story of translation and manufacture and distribution in nearly all the countries of the world.

The difference between the income and the charges of the year amounting to $69,065.57, was met by making available special funds held in reserve by action of the Board. These have now been exhausted and the Society must have enlarged support from the Christian people of this country if it is to continue and enlarge its work.

The Board of Managers determined not to use the Centennial as an occasion for the solicitation of funds, greatly as these funds were needed. It spent the Centennial Year in lifting up the Word of Life and telling the story of the spiritual achievements of the circulation of the Bible throughout all nations. After the close of the Centennial the governing body of the Society decided on a campaign for $5,000,000 for Equipment and Advance. The income of the Society should be increased by at least $250,000 a year. Bible Houses or homes for the Society's work should be erected in the principal centers in the foreign fields where it now has headquarters. The Centennial offering of the Maryland Bible Society made possible the erection of suitable headquarters at Cristobal, in the Canal Zone, where a splendid building has been erected which will serve the needs of the missionary distribution of the Scriptures in all that Caribbean region. It is desired that similar buildings should be erected in Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Mexico City, Lima, Tokyo, Seoul, Peking, Shanghai, Manila, Bangkok, etc. There are certain fields also in which the work of the Society should be greatly enlarged.

Plans for attempting to accomplish this campaign for $5,000,000 have been adopted, but owing to the entrance of the United States into the war, it has seemed necessary to concentrate for the time being on securing funds and publishing Scriptures to put "A KHAKI BIBLE IN EVERY SOLDIER'S KIT."

The work of the Society during the year was carried on in the United States in nine Home Agencies and in cooperation with two hundred and five Auxiliary Societies, and abroad in twelve Foreign Agencies, and through Foreign Correspondents.

The work of translation and the revision of the Scriptures has had to do during the year with the language of the Navajo Indians in the United States. For South America, the Union Committee at work on the Spanish New Testament has completed its labors. The Rev. Dr. Drees, and the Rev. Mr. Baez of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who were on this Committee, have returned to their labors, the one in Uruguay and the other in Mexico. A Bolivian Quechua and Spanish Diglot Version of the Gospels has been going forward and an Ecuador Quechua Version of the Gospel of Saint Luke has been going through the press. The Committee on the Revision of the Japanese New Testament nearly completed their labors during the year and this is also true of the Committee at work on the Wenli Union Version and the Mandarin Version in China. In Korea the revisers have been making progress. In the Philippines the Cebuan Old Testament manuscript has been made ready for the printer and in Africa the pocket edition of the New Testament in Zulu has been approaching completion.

The management of the Society is vested in a Board of thirty-six laymen, in which the Methodist Episcopal Church is well represented. Since the adoption of the Society as one of the official benevolences of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1863, one of its ministers has been one of the Corresponding Secretaries of the Society. These have been in order: Rev. Dr. Edmund S. Janes, Rev. Dr. Joseph Holdich, Rev. Dr. Albert S. Hunt, and the Rev. Dr. William Ingraham Haven. The headquarters of the Society is: Bible House, Astor Place, New York City.

BOARD OF CONFERENCE CLAIMANTS

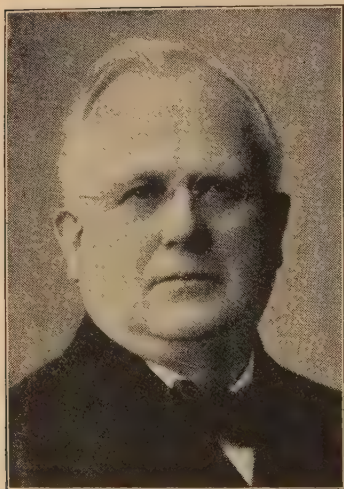

The Board of Conference Claimants was instituted by the General Conference to minister to retired ministers, the widows and dependent orphans of deceased ministers.

The Board is duly incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois, its legal title being "Board of Conference Claimants of the Methodist Episcopal Church."

The duties of the Board are "to build up and administer a connectional Permanent Fund and to increase the revenues for the benefit of Conference Claimants."

The Board consists of one Bishop, the Corresponding Secretary, seven other ministers and eight laymen. The personnel is as follows:

- Bishop Charles Bayard Mitchell, President.
- Rev. Joseph B. Hingeley, Corresponding Secretary.
- Rev. Charles W. Baldwin, Baltimore, Md.
- Rev. Perry Millar, Janesville, Wis.
- Rev. J. W. Van Cleve, Chicago, Ill.
- Rev. E. C. E. Dorion, Boston, Mass.
- Rev. Mitchell S. Marble, Marion, Ind.
- Rev. Lambert E. Lennox, Benton Harbor, Mich.
- Rev. Frederick T. Keeney, Syracuse, N. Y.

DR. J. B. HINGELEY
CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

Mr. John E. Andrus, Yonkers, N. Y.

Mr. Benjamin F. Adams, Bloomington, Ind.

Mr. George Warren Brown, Saint Louis, Mo.

Mr. Oscar P. Miller, Rock Rapids, Ia.

Mr. John O. Pew, Youngstown, O.

Mr. Robert W. Campbell, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Frank A. Freeman, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Charles E. Waterman, Dolton, Ill.

The Corresponding Secretary is elected by the General Conference.

Its purpose is benevolent, "That the people and preachers of the stronger Annual Conferences may be united with those of the weaker Conferences in one connectional plan in order that, by this cooperation, a more equitable and general support may be secured for the retired preachers and other Conference Claimants, especially for those in the more needy Conferences."

Through the Board, necessitous cases, especially in the needy Conferences where Methodism is weak, are given the benefit of benevolent provisions made by the entire church.

Investments in the Permanent Fund of the Board are provided by the entire church. The income goes to all Conferences through the Dividend for Connectional Relief.

The distribution of Connectional Relief is made on benevolent principles, available funds being distributed to the Conferences in proportion to their several necessities, of which the Board is informed through reports made to it by the Conference Stewards.

Method of Annual Distribution to Claimants

First, an annuity, based on years of effective service. Second, a special distribution to all who require more than the annuity provides.

What Methodism is Doing for Its Retired Ministers

There are in the United States 2,973 retired ministers, 3,225 widows, and 445 dependent orphan children of deceased ministers; in all 6,643 Conference Claimants; beside 200 claimants in other countries. The annuity obligation of the church to the retired minister is an amount equal to one seventieth of the average salary of the effective ministers of the Annual Conference for each year of "effective service," plus two years on probation. The annuity rate varies from three to twenty dollars, but, whatever the rate, it has the same fixed ratio to the average amount paid to pastors. A widow receives an annuity of three fourths of the rate paid to retired ministers for each year that she was the wife of a minister while he was serving in the effective relation in the Methodist Episcopal Church, her claim resting on her service to the church as a "minister's wife." An orphan child under sixteen years of age receives one fifth of the amount to which his father would be entitled.

Besides the money for annuities based on service, an additional amount is provided to take care of those who need more than the annuity provides; such as those who break down early, or are very feeble and need special care. The income of the Board of Conference Claimants is applied to aid them, and in a few years will be sufficient to provide for all such necessities.

The Work of the Board

The work of the Board is of a varied character, but can be grouped under the three heads prescribed by the law of the church; namely:

1. To administer funds for general or connectional relief throughout the entire church, so as to equalize, to a degree at least, the support furnished by the weak Conferences with that of the strong Conferences, so that when the pioneer preacher is worn out there may be funds to provide for his old age. The Board of Conference Claimants was organized to help him. This was both necessary and right, and the Board has already extended substantial help to the weaker Conferences; or has helped them to help themselves. It has also been the almoner of the whole church to "necessitous cases" in all the Conferences.

2. To create and administer a connectional Permanent Fund.

This is the ULTIMATE AIM of the Board, if not its main purpose. The value of a large connectional Permanent Fund administered directly by the Board IN THE INTEREST OF THE WHOLE CHURCH cannot be exaggerated; but there is a more immediate and pressing duty, namely; that of providing moneys for immediate distribution, so that the men who are to-day in the retired ranks may be provided for. The connectional Permanent Fund now amounts to a million and a half dollars, even though the main emphasis has been placed on permanent investments for Annual Conferences. Many wills have been written of which the Board is the beneficiary, and gifts subject to life annuities will be available in God's good time.

3. To increase revenues of every character for the benefit of Conference Claimants.

While other duties have not been neglected the main work of the Board has been that of "increasing revenues for the benefit of Conference Claimants" BY DOING ANYTHING ANYWHERE IN THE CHURCH which would increase income for the retired ministers.

Increased Payments to Claimants

In 1913 not one retired minister received an allowance of as much as $600, but in 1916 there were sixty-eight veterans who received $600.

Table
Of Increase to Conference Claimants

NUMBER OF MINISTERS AND AMOUNTS RECEIVED
1913 Amount Received	Number of Retired Ministers	1916 Retired Ministers	Per cent Increase
$600.....	Not one	68
$500 or more.....	13	230	1,692
$400 or more.....	135	588	355
$300 or more.....	492	1,343	175
$200 or more.....	1,097	3,961	216

The total claims for retired ministers, widows and orphans is $2,000,000. The amount paid in 1916 was $1,227,000; the amount has more than doubled since 1908, when the Board of Conference Claimants was organized. Then it was $608,000, now, $1,227,000, an increase of $627,000.

Veterans of the Cross Fellowship

We rejoice in the many efforts to organize suitably the retired ministers, the decorating of the graves of ministers, and the forming of associations of retired ministers, especially of the "Veterans of the Cross Fellowship." The Secretary of the movement is Rev. Olin F. Mattison, Evanston, Ill.

"The Retired Minister"

The Retired Minister, a book of six hundred pages, is a compendium on this subject. It takes up first the general principles underlying the movement for a retiring competency for preachers, and follows with articles by leaders of the great Protestant Churches, indicating what is being done by them to provide for retired ministers. A third section is taken up with poetry, incident and song; and the fourth part is devoted to the Ten-Million-Dollar Campaign in the Methodist Episcopal Church with articles by all the Bishops and the great leaders of Methodism. The intent of the book is to provide material for the laymen and ministers who desire to speak on the subject.

The Veteran Preacher has been published for six years. Half a million copies have been printed, including the special Conference editions for the Detroit, New England, North-East Ohio, New Hampshire, Philadelphia and Delaware Conferences; also a German edition.

A "Press Bulletin" or "Clip Sheet" is issued frequently and quoted considerably by the secular and religious press. The Board also issues numerous leaflets and tracts, besides supplying the Advocates with news and articles regarding this "Supreme Claim."

The Laymen

One of the most interesting developments of the Ten-Million-Dollar Campaign has been the way in which the laymen have laid hold of the proposition and met their responsibilities. Hundreds of lay addresses have been delivered, emphasizing especially that the claim of the retired ministers is an obligation—a duty, not a charity.

Wills

Godly people, lovers of the retired ministers, are making wills to the "Board of Conference Claimants of the Methodist Episcopal Church," and many have been probated.

LIFE ANNUITY BONDS, prepared under expert legal advice and protected by the investments of the Board, are sold at liberal rates to those who desire to help the Board, but who require an absolutely sure income during life.

All communications should be addressed to the Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Joseph B. Hingeley, D.D., 820 Garland Building, Chicago, Ill.

COMMISSION ON FINANCE

The Commission on Finance was organized by the General Conference of 1912 and had its powers confirmed and extended by the General Conference of 1916. Dr. Joseph W. Van Cleve is the General Secretary.

The work of the Commission is carried on in three departments: the Field Department, John Lowe Fort, Superintendent; the Apportionment Department, W. B. Hollingshead, Superintendent; and the Stewardship Department, Harvey Reeves Calkins, Superintendent. Peter W. Finger is the Office Secretary.

The Field Department is charged with the work of introducing the Disciplinary Financial Plan into all the churches as rapidly as possible, strengthening the home base and increasing the financial support of the great Boards.

The Apportionment Department apportions the benevolent askings of the Boards to the individual churches and furnishes invaluable statistics for use in the field campaigns.

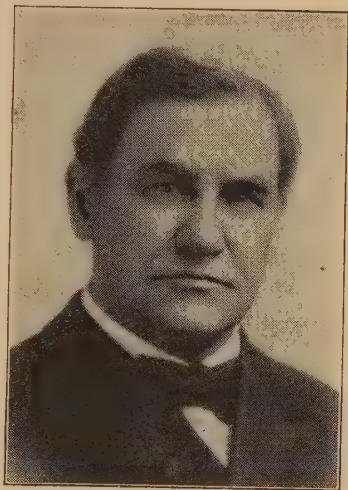

The Department of Stewardship is charged with the task of indoctrinating the church in the right use of money, both in the getting and the spending.

The Commission on Finance is the one General Conference organization that touches every phase of our church life. The general church looks to the Commission to eliminate overlapping of the field and financial work of the several benevolence Boards, to devise and assist in executing a denominational program that shall show the unity of our work at home and abroad, and to study the whole benevolence field in order that the next General Conference shall have the facts and the plans for a more efficient realization of our benevolence possibilities.

THE APPORTIONMENT DEPARTMENT

The gross sums apportioned by the General Conference Commission on Finance June, 1916, are as follows:

Board of Foreign Missions.....	$1,800,000
Board of Home Missions and Church Extension.....	1,650,000
Freedmen's Aid Society.....	270,000
Board of Sunday Schools.....	210,000
Board of Education (Public Education).....	510,000
American Bible Society.....	100,000
Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals.....	100,000
Deaconess Board.....	30,000
	$4,670,000

DR. J. W. VAN CLEVE
GENERAL SECRETARY

THE PER CENT DIVISION

The total of $4,670,000 is divided among the eight disciplinary benevolent boards and societies as follows:

Board of Foreign Missions.....	38.55%
Board of Home Missions and Church Extension.....	35.33 "
Freedmen's Aid Society.....	5.78 "
Board of Sunday Schools.....	4.50 "
Board of Education (Public Education).....	10.92 "
American Bible Society.....	2.14 "
Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals.....	2.14 "
Deaconess Board.....	.64 "

APPORTIONMENTS

Apportionments for the eight benevolent boards and societies as named above are made out for each pastoral charge in the connection, and sent in typewritten form to the district superintendents.

First, a grade figure is secured for each charge. The grade of the entire church is 1,500,000, and each charge has its share of these points. We divide the total grade, 1,500,000, into four equal parts of 375,000 each. While the factors are equal in the whole Church, they differ widely in the pastoral charges, districts, and Conferences. The equitable apportionment system harmonizes these differences as fully as the statistical returns will permit.

Each pastoral charge determines its own grade figure, and makes its own apportionments. The apportionments are calculated, not made in the apportionment office.

MULTIPLIERS FOR 1917

The multipliers to be used on the statistical returns of 1916, upon which the apportionments are computed for 1917, are:

Members.....	.11
Net Property.....	.0017
Total Ministerial Support.....	.0211
Total Disciplinary Benevolences.....	.096

Multiplying the statistics by their respective multipliers gives the factor for each item, and when the four factors or sub-grades are added the grade is secured; and when the correct grade figure is found the apportionments are according to the Per Cent Division.

Amounts contributed to the Children's Day Fund do not apply on the apportionments for the Board of Education; nor are special gifts, whether for the Missionary Boards, the Freedmen's Aid Society, or any other benevolent cause, so applied.

Sunday School Missionary money does apply on the apportionments and should be divided as follows:

45%	for the Board of Foreign Missions.
45 "	for the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension.
10 "	for the Board of Sunday Schools.

When ordered by the district superintendents we print official apportionment Star Cards without expense to the district. When the full apportionments are paid for any cause, a star is printed, and when all apportionments have been paid eight stars are printed, which places the charge in the honor class. The entire gain in benevolent returns has been reported from districts which have made use of the official apportionments.

The office of the Commission is at 740 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill.

BOARD OF TEMPERANCE, PROHIBITION, AND PUBLIC MORALS OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

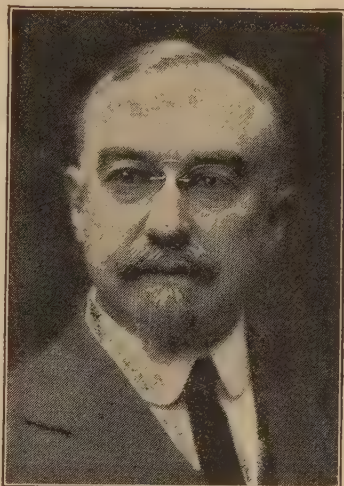

The General Conference of 1916 located this Board in Washington, D. C. Its central offices are now at 204 Pennsylvania Avenue, S. E. Recently it purchased three large lots facing the Senate wing of the Capitol of the United States, on which it is proposed to erect a building which will be a center of temperance, Methodism, and Protestantism, to stand as a fort against the assaults of the legions of lobbyists of corruption. The strategy of this program is attested by the fact that Catholicism has nearly two score schools and colleges in the city.

The "first fruits" of the removal of the Board to Washington came in the form of the anti-liquor advertising and bone dry laws for which the Board had systematically agitated for three years. The passage of this law was very generally attributed to the work of the Board. The law made twenty-three States and large portions of other States wholly dry and closed the United States mails to liquor advertising in a wide territory.

The General Conference of 1916 increased the Board's apportionment to $100,000 and hundreds of pastors have made their remittances on the basis of this apportionment even before it appeared in the statistical blanks.

The Board publishes Dry or Die, the Anglo-Saxon Dilemma, by Dr. Clarence True Wilson; The Cyclopedia of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals, and Temperance Sermons. In addition it handles many other books and has circulated millions of leaflets. Its Research Department has conducted thirty-two researches, some of which have influenced governmental action and appeared in journals all around the world. A clip-sheet each week reaches every daily newspaper in the United States, every congressman and senator, a large number of influential publications which do not appear daily and many prominent people. The circulation of this is entirely free and it has been notably successful in influencing opinion. Each month every minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is reached by The Voice. An extensive work of temperance education among the colored people is under the direction of Rev. J. N. C. Coggin, D.D. The Board issues free programs for Sunday schools, systematically promotes study of the liquor problem in Epworth League chapters and conducts contests among Methodist undergraduates.

The most notable feature of the Board's work has been its numerous automobile campaigns under the immediate supervision of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, General Secretary of the Board, and its work in parks, factories, and on the streets.

DR. CLARENCE TRUE WILSON
GENERAL SECRETARY

The Board has had a very large part in the promotion of prohibition in State campaigns, in all of which it participates. In two States which recently went dry, all the expenses of the dry campaign were underwritten by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals.

The success of the Board's work is indicated by the frequent attacks upon the Board in the liquor press under such titles as "The Menace of Methodism," "The High and Mighty Methodists," "The Canonizing of the Lobby," etc.

The General Secretary of the Board is Clarence True Wilson, D.D.; Deets Pickett, Research Secretary; Ernest Dailey Smith, D.D., Extension Secretary; J. N. C. Coggin, D.D., Secretary for Colored Work; H. K. Matsen, D.D., Secretary for Foreign Speaking People; and Miss Ina L. Bates, Office Secretary.

Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals.—ADVISORY MEMBERS.—Hon. Josephus Daniels; Senator Morris Sheppard; Senator Wesley L. Jones; Representative Charles H. Randall; Representative Addison T. Smith; Representative Simeon D. Fess; Mr. John T. Stone; Dr. James R. Joy; Judge Charles A. Pollock; Dr. Claudius B. Spencer.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.—Bishop William F. McDowell; Clarence True Wilson, ex officio; Stephen J. Herben; William T. Galliher; John MacMurray; A. G. Kynett; Henry A. Larson; J. F. Heisse; William Saulsbury; J. C. McDowell; John C. Letts; Alonzo E. Wilson; W. H. Anderson; Charles K. Haddon; William E. Massey; Walter P. Ballinger; Melville Gambrell; Joseph W. Young; W. R. METHODIST FEDERATION FOR SOCIAL SERVICE

Organized December 3, 1907, "to deepen within the church the sense of social obligation and opportunity, to study social problems from the Christian point of view, and to promote social service in the spirit of Jesus Christ."

Recognized by the General Conference of 1912 as "The executive agency to rally the forces of the church in support of the principles and measures" approved by that body.

Its report on questions submitted by the General Conference of 1908 was adopted by the General Conference of 1912, and is now the official platform and program of our church in the field of social action.

Its report on the Church and the Social Question was adopted by the General Conference of 1916, the former platform and program reaffirmed, and the Society again authorized to continue its work.

The Federation carries on the following activities: (1) Publications: The Bulletin; pamphlets, leaflets, and cards; reading lists; press service; handbooks—in cooperation with other denominations. (2) Information Bureau: Gathering material from every possible source in literature and experience and making it available for the needs of the individual pastor and church. (3) Working Plans: Testing and completing plans of community service for every department of the church; suggesting and directing to a common end the work of the Annual Conference Social Service Commissions. (4) Social Evangelism: Explaining and applying the Social Creed; outlining a program of community ministry for local churches; interpreting the gospel to the industrial group.

The Special War-Time Program of this Federation includes education and propaganda in the following:

Vacant Lot Gardening; Elimination of Waste; Relief, in cooperation with Red Cross and local charities; Americanizing immigrants; Maintaining industrial standards; Fighting the venereal peril; Keeping prices down; National prohibition as a war measure; Social justice in war finance; Spiritual leadership in keeping down hate, defending democracy at home, and creating the international mind. Full program on request, with sources of information on the various fields given if desired.

The Federation exists to serve the church, whose ministry and membership are invited to use its facilities.

Officers: President, Bishop F. J. McConnell, Denver, Colo.; Vice-President, Bishop Herbert Welch, Korea; Secretary, Professor Harry F. Ward, 72 Mount Vernon Street, Boston, Mass.; Recording Secretary, Professor H. F. Rall, Evanston, Ill.; Treasurer, Mr. F. C. Ebinger, Chicago, Ill.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

1. HISTORY.—The Epworth League was organized at Cleveland, O., May 15, 1889, by the combination of five young people's organizations of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The first meeting of the Board of Control was held in Chicago in February, 1890. The publication of the Epworth Herald was authorized by the Book Committee in February, 1890. The League was officially recognized by the General Conference of 1892. The First International Epworth League Convention was held in Cleveland, O., in 1893. These conventions were held biennially until the Denver Convention, in 1905, since which they have been made quadrennial. They have occurred in Cleveland, Chattanooga, Toronto, Indianapolis, San Francisco, Detroit, Denver, Seattle, and Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. W. F. SHERIDAN, GENERAL SECRETARY

2. PURPOSE.—The purpose of the League is the promotion of intelligent and vital piety among the young people of our church and congregation and training them in works of mercy and social service, and world evangelization. To win, to save, and to train the young people for Jesus Christ is the League's constant purpose.

3. MODE OF WORK.—The League assigns every member to some department, either the spiritual, the world-evangelism, that of social service, or recreation and culture. While our church rejoices that every minister has a church and every church a minister, the League rejoices in the fact that every Leaguer is assigned to some definite task, and that every kind of Christian service has some League member definitely assigned to perform it.

4. STUDY CLASSES.—The League conducts classes in Bible study, missions, Christian stewardship, social service, temperance reform, and personal evangelism. All local Leagues are urged by the Central Office to organize and maintain such classes. The plan is to give the church of to-morrow a leadership thoroughly disciplined and equipped for the great task of world conquest.

Helps are supplied from the Central Office at 740 Rush Street, Chicago, for all these classes, and at the various summer institutes the method of conducting these classes is exemplified, while at the same time the impulse to attempt it is created.

5. INSTITUTES.—The Institutes are proving highly successful and useful. The combination of information and inspiration supplied by a faculty of eight or ten trained specialists in the different forms of Christian work has proved exceedingly valuable. These classes are practically clinics in Christian service. At the close of the summer of 1917 every place that had an Institute petitioned for a like gathering in 1918, and the requests for Institutes for the ensuing year have increased. In six years the number of Institutes has grown from twelve to forty. Each Institute lasts one week. Every forenoon from ten to fourteen lectures are given to as many classes. Three inspirational services are held, and the afternoon is devoted to recreation. By these means the local Leagues secure the finest possible training of leaders.

6. EVANGELIZATION.—Evangelization is the keynote of the League. All the studies and lectures focus there. The evangelization of the world is held up steadily as the ultimate object of endeavor. Personal evangelism is constantly urged as the immediate duty and opportunity of every Epworthian. At every Institute the past summer conversions have taken place, while at every Institute also from six to ninety-nine young men and women have consecrated themselves to the ministry, to foreign missionary service, or to deaconess work.

For five years past a wide-spread Win-My-Chum campaign has been conducted in the late autumn, resulting in thousands of conversions.

THE FOREIGN FIELDS.—The League has followed the church into its various mission fields. However, the work has been seriously handicapped by lack of leadership and literature and by the absence of ordinary culture among the young people. The work of our missions has greatly needed a literature the League could supply, and the work the League is specially fitted to do, to rear a generation that would constitute such native churches as are needed to evangelize the various lands. To meet this situation the League is developing an aggressive policy in the foreign mission fields.

In Mexico the League is meeting the office and traveling expenses of an unsalaried secretary and giving financial aid in the translation and publication of literature.

In India a salaried secretary and assistant secretary are supported. Literature has been translated and published in ten principal languages of India. The work of the League has been so coordinated with the regular missionary activities as to assure other important advantages.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT.—After fifteen years of financial dependence the policy of the Epworth League was turned toward self-support. The General Conference of 1908 enacted this policy into law and made the support of the Central Office a Disciplinary collection which must be reported by the pastors at the Annual Conference. The amount is fixed by the Board of Control and has been placed at five cents a member for the Senior Chapters, and two cents for the Junior Chapters, increased sufficiently to be expressed in even dollars. By this collection of dues, plus the profits accruing from the sale of League supplies, the expense of League administration is met.

The general office of the Epworth League is at 740 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill. Rev. Wilbur F. Sheridan, D.D., General Secretary. Rev. C. E. Guthrie, D.D., Assistant Secretary.

Editor of Epworth Herald, Rev. Dan B. Brummitt, D.D.

JUNIOR EPWORTH LEAGUE

The place of the Junior League in the polity of the Methodist Episcopal Church as defined by the last General Conference lays upon every pastor the obligation to organize his baptized children over the age of ten years into a Junior League or children's class, provided that he shall not exclude those not baptized.

The Junior League strives to meet the needs of the youth of the church in such a way as to develop in a normal boy and girl Christianity; train for efficient membership in the Epworth League, and in the general activities and knowledge of the church; and graduate every member a Christian member of the church.

To accomplish this, the plans for the Junior League include a graded outline for the social life and activities coordinating the work of the boys and girls' clubs, and a graded course of study covering a practical method of bringing the Bible in touch with the everyday life of children—Juniors and Intermediates—just at the point of interest of the different ages.

This plan also includes courses in church history, government, doctrines, and benevolences, to the end that we may give to the Epworth League of to-morrow a more efficient membership, and to the world of to-morrow a church of more loyal and intelligent Methodists.

The General Secretary for the Junior League is Emma A. Robinson. Headquarters, The Central Office of the Epworth League, 740 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill.

THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

The Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church was instituted in 1908, with the purpose to stimulate the laymen of the church to increased effort in missionary service and to enlist them for added efficiency in spreading the kingdom of God throughout the world. It was a voluntary association of interested men financed entirely by those who participated in its work, and without cost to the church or to any Board. It received and disbursed no missionary funds, and employed no missionaries either at home or in the foreign field.

Its function was specifically educational and inspirational.

It participated in the nation-wide campaigns, Laymen's Conventions in 1909-1910, and again in 1915-1916, besides which it held many distinctly Methodist conventions and conferences in various sections of the country throughout the past ten years.

The General Conference of 1916, in the reorganization of the Commission on Finance, which was largely the result of the Movement, and by official recognition of the Every-Member Canvass plan of church finance which the Movement inaugurated and promoted, rendered unnecessary for the present the maintenance of a separate central office by the Movement, and since November, 1916, the Movement has not carried on its distinctive work as theretofore.

The National and Executive Committees of the Movement, however, have not formally dissolved. They are retained with the possibility that in future missionary efforts both Home and Foreign, the Movement may find opportunity and necessity for a renewal and continuance of its distinctive service on behalf of laymen.

The officers of the Movement are: Chairman, E. W. Halford, New York; Secretary, James R. Joy, New York; Treasurer, John T. Stone, Baltimore. Its address is 150 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP LEAGUE

PURPOSE.—The Christian Stewardship League is formed in order that Christian people may be helped to know the spiritual meaning of ownership, and in order that they themselves may help to establish, in the church and in society, a Christian attitude toward property, income, wages, and wealth. It is recognized that Christian Stewardship must be of life and opportunity, no less than of possessions; therefore it is the further purpose of this League to emphasize and promote the stewardship of personal Christian service, and of prayer.

GENERAL OFFICERS.—President, Bishop Joseph F. Berry, Philadelphia, Pa.; Vice-President, John B. Trimble, Sioux City, Ia.; Treasurer, Edgar Blake, Chicago, Ill.; Chairman Executive Committee, Joseph W. Van Clevé, Chicago, Ill.; General Superintendent, Harvey Reeves Calkins, Chicago, Ill. CENTRAL OFFICE.—740 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill.

Under cover by November was the expectation of Rev. E. M. Evans, in charge of our Army work at Fort Dodge, Des Moines, Ia. The new building, erected by the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension, has eight rooms in addition to the Superintendent's apartment. A word of encouragement to a young married man with a young wife at home, when he was blue, out with everything and everybody, a little stiffening of the backbone that he might be a good Christian and a good soldier. A homesick boy with no Sunday visitor taken home to dinner. Getting at the boys with the welcome of the church before evil influences get a hold. As soon as the building is completed the task will be tremendous.

Shower baths in the institutional building of the Court Street Methodist Episcopal Church at Rockford, Ill., Rev. Chasteen Smith, pastor, are used daily by the soldiers from Camp Grant. For eight weeks the basement of the church was used by one of the Medical Corps. Epworth League Socials and go-home-with-me-to-dinner invitations help to make the church popular with the men in service.

Three hundred soldiers at Sunday school in four classes regularly, with the Assistant County Attorney and the strongest men in the church as teachers, is a part of the day's work at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Fort Worth, Tex. The fifteen Southern Methodist churches of the city have a Central Soldier Committee, and each church has a soldier committee, representing the different organizations in the local church.

DEACONESS WORK OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH UNDER CONTROL OF THE GENERAL DEACONESS BOARD

General Deaconess Board

With the founding of the Christian Church Deaconess service began. As a distinct movement in our church it was recognized at the General Conference of 1888. The General Deaconess Board was formed in 1900, and in 1916 the General Conference made it one of the regular Benevolent Boards of the Church. It has general oversight of the Deaconess work in the entire Church.

Communications should be addressed to the Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Daniel W. Howell, 483 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Methodist Deaconess Association was organized in Baltimore in May, 1908, at a meeting of the representatives of the deaconess institutions organized exclusively under local boards. This form of work had existed from the beginning of the Deaconess Movement in American Methodism, but at this time a closer affiliation was felt to be necessary for the promotion of the general interests of the work, the securing of district and national Conferences, intercommunication, and cooperation.

Its first National Convention was held in Milwaukee, May, 1910. The last convention was held at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., in May, 1916. The following officers were elected for the year 1916-1917: President, Edward E. Shipley; First Vice-President, N. M. Jones; Second Vice-President, Ethel Butts; Third Vice-President, Mrs. R. S. Veterans of the Cross Fellowship

The Veterans of the Cross Fellowship is an organization of the Veteran Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The object of the society is to quicken and to preserve among ministers in the retired relation by solidarity and special fellowship, those fraternal ties which bind together all members of an Annual Conference during the years of effective service. The first Fellowship was organized March 10, 1910, at the historic Bromfield Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Boston, Mass., by the Rev. V. A. Cooper, D.D., a Veteran of the Civil War and fifty-eight years in the effective ranks of our ministry. At the National Convention for Conference Claimants at Chicago, April 28, 1915, at the suggestion of the Rev. Joseph B. Hingeley, D.D., The National Veterans of the Cross Fellowship was effected for the whole church.

At the annual meeting of the General Chapter of the Veterans of the Cross Fellowship, held April 23 last, Rev. Bethuel Thomas Vincent, D.D., of 903 East Fourteenth Avenue, Denver, Colo., was elected president.

Rev. O. F. Mattison, Evanston, Ill., Corresponding Secretary; Rev. M. L. Norris, Recording Secretary; and Rev. O. L. Hansen, Treasurer.

The Atlanta Conference, by vote, adopted the amount of one thousand dollars to be raised for the support of its own Conference Claimants, and the District Superintendents were requested to apportion this among the charges in the districts to be raised during the year. The Bishop appointed the following Committee on the Conference Claimants' interests: P. H. Travis, M. M. Alston, and J. P. Wragg.

Central New York Conference Permanent Fund.—This Conference has set as its ultimate goal the raising of a fund of $750,000 for the proper care of its retired ministers. Toward this the trustees of the Conference reported at the session of 1917 actual funds in hand amounting to $233,114.96; estate notes, payable at the deaths of the makers, amounting to $14,780. There are also large numbers of unpaid subscriptions and many known bequests. Until the goal shall be reached the Conference will put forth an earnest effort to raise the largest amounts possible from the churches for the care of the claimants; an increase in apportionments of 25 per cent was ordered at the last session, October 27, 1917. G. E. Hutchings, Secretary and Treasurer, Chittenango, N. Y.

The Commission on Conference Claimants' Endowment Fund, of the Baltimore Annual Conference (incorporated under laws of the State of Maryland) was organized at the Conference Session of 1915. The aim is to raise $300,000 in addition to the nearly $200,000 belonging to the Preacher's Aid Society of the Conference.

President, vacant; Vice-President, Mr. Summerfield Baldwin; Secretary, Rev. J. F. Heisse, D.D.; Treasurer, Mr. A. Roszell Cathcart; Acting Corresponding Secretary, Rev. B. W. Meeks.

Office of the Commission is at the Methodist Book Depository, Inc., 310 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

The Conference Claimants' Endowment Board of the California Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church (a California corporation).

—This long title is our legal name. We have collected, and have in hand, $96,000. Of this $20,000 is loaned on first mortgages, and the balance is in real estate. In various cities we own 32 valuable lots, on 23 of which we have superannuates' parsonages. The free life use of these homes is given in the order of their years of service to those Conference Claimants who need them, and to their wives, so long as they remain Conference Claimants. The occupants are expected to pay taxes and insurance and to keep the property in reasonable repair, when able. Our titles are all in unconditional "Grant, Bargain, and Sale" deeds; and we can use, rent, sell, or do with our real estate whatever is best for our Conference Claimants. We have an indebtedness of $1,750. The directors are: Class of 1918, E. R. Dille, A. J. Hanson, J. A. Johnson, George D. Kellogg; class of 1919, Carl M. Warner, J. F. Wilson, D. C. Crummey, C. B. Perkins; class of 1920, Channing Richardson, John Stephens, C. H. Dunn, and John Tunnicliffe. Officers of the Board: President, C. M. Warner; Vice-President, C. B. Perkins; Secretary, C. A. Richardson; Warrant Clerk, J. E. White; Treasurer, C. H. Dunn; J. H. Wythe, D.D., Agent, 100 Minnesota Avenue, San Jose, Cal.

The Preachers' Aid Society of the Central Pennsylvania Annual Conference was established in 1869, the year of the organization of the Conference.

Membership is conditioned upon the signing of the constitution and the annual payment of one dollar. Any person, minister or layman, can become a member. Membership is not required by those who are beneficiaries, but only members of the Central Pennsylvania Conference and their families are eligible to receive aid. The Society is governed by 18 managers, who are elected annually. These managers may be either ministers or laymen, and generally there are nine of each. The officers for the present year are: President, Horace Lincoln Jacobs; First Vice-President, Barnett H. Hart; Second Vice-President, T. S. Stansfield; Treasurer, Herbert T. Ames; Recording Secretary, Milton K. Foster; Corresponding Secretary, Thomas M. B. Hicks. The society owns Williamsport Dickinson Seminary, a property whose estimated financial value is $250,000. Apart from the seminary the society has investments amounting to upwards of $63,000, yielding an income for annual distribution of from $2,500 to $3,000, probably, from this time on, as $20,000 has been added to its permanent funds.

Central Illinois Conference Claimants' Society, 1916-1917. President, J. W. Pruen; Vice-President, A. E. Ioder; Secretary, A. H. Smith; Treasurer, L. F. Cullom.

MANAGERS.—D. S. McCown, W. R. Wiley, A. M. Stocking, Glenn Tilton, Wade Smith, O. M. Dunlevy, F. E. Shult, B. F. Eckley.

Colorado Conference Preachers' Aid Society.—Incorporated 1878. Re-incorporated 1899. Constitution in 1910 amended, authorizing it to execute the requirements of the Discipline for the support of all Claimants of that Conference. Total investment nearly $50,000. Of this the $33,000, accumulated during its dues-paying era, furnishes a thin extra slice of "Jubilee" butter for the half slice of Conference bread for all who paid into it, as long as they are Claimants, and thereafter it gradually goes to aid all the Colorado Claimants. President, E. M. Cranston; Secretary, John Collins, 2224 South Ogden, Denver, Colo.; Treasurer, W. F. Steele.

Des Moines Conference Campaign for Conference Claimants.—At the Conference of 1915 a commission was appointed to prepare and submit a plan to the next session of the Conference for raising an adequate endowment for the Conference Claimants.

The report of that commission which was adopted placed the amount to be raised at $250,000; the campaign to become intensive after the Conference of 1918 and close in 1919. A commission of seven was appointed to have charge and plan for the work.

Rev. Edward Pruitt was appointed Secretary and immediately entered upon the work, visiting the charges, speaking on Sunday, and during the week sending out literature from his office in Des Moines, thus preparing the way for the active campaign for money after the Conference session of 1918.

Detroit Conference Endowment Fund Commission. The Detroit Conference at its last session appointed an Endowment Fund Commission to raise $1,000,000 for its retired ministers. The Commission is now making strenuous efforts to raise the first unit of $700,000 by October 1. One unknown layman has promised $125,000, two other prominent laymen each gave $30,000, and from others have come generous amounts which with the one per cent of the pastoral support from the churches and annuities is planned to total the amount of the first unit. Every pastor is to give 2 per cent of his cash salary annually, each church is to give 7 per cent of the pastoral claim annually and this with the interest from the endowment is confidently expected to provide for an adequate support for the retired ministers. $531,000 has already been pledged. Bishop Theodore Henderson has thrown himself into the campaign with all his splendid energy and enthusiasm; Dr. Earl R. Rice the Executive Secretary and Mr. A. L. Parker, the President of the Commission; Dr. C. B. Allen, Director of Local Campaigns, the Detroit wizard of finance, with the other five District Superintendents have all rendered heroic service.

The East Maine Conference has a commission known as Commission of East Maine Conference Fund for Conference Claimants. It is composed of one minister, and one layman on each district, the district superintendents ex-officio. The Annual Conference of 1917 ratified the Commission's request that a sliding scale of one half of one per cent to one and one half per cent be asked from each pastor in proportion to his salary. The Laymen's Association of the Conference voluntarily gives its membership fees to the Fund. The Commission is quietly raising $50,000.

For the past few years one hundred per cent of the Conference Claimants' claim had been paid. This year a few claimants relinquished a part of their claim. In consequence the Conference was still able to pay one hundred per cent in the majority of cases.

Permanent Fund of Genesee Conference.—A definite plan to establish a Permanent Fund for "Our Superannuates" was adopted by Genesee Conference in 1902; a Permanent Fund Board of fifteen members was created, to have oversight and direction of the work. The late Rev. Sion A. Morse, D.D., was its President until 1913, when he was made "Conference Secretary of the Permanent Fund," in which position he continued until his death, April 12, 1916. Rev. Frederick H. Coman, D.D., succeeded him as President. The Board has had but one Treasurer from the beginning, Rev. Melville R. Webster, D.D., of Rochester, N. Y.

A Campaign Commission consisting of one layman and one minister from each District, and the District Superintendents, was created in 1914. Rev. Robert E. Brown, D.D., of Rochester is its efficient Chairman, and it has been of great value in stimulating the field work for the Fund.

The net total paid in cash to the Conference Corporation for investment, November 6, 1916, was $50,335.

Many churches are assuming the full amount asked, and the pledges of individuals lend hope that by 1920 the Fund may be completed.

The Holston Conference, at its recent session, took a long step forward in the organization of a Preachers' Aid Society. Mrs. Edith Manker Patten, widow of the late John A. Patten, of Chattanooga, Tenn., made the offer of $10,000 to the funds, and the Conference will plan to raise an additional $40,000 this year, which will make in this fund the amount of $50,000 to begin with. Mrs. Patten gives this as a memorial to her father, the late John J. Manker, formerly an honored member of Holston Conference for fifty years. B. M. Martin, retiring superintendent of Harriman District, was appointed by Bishop Bristol as Field Agent for the subscribing and raising of this fund. Mrs. Lucy French Waters, lately deceased, through her pastor, F. P. Sanders, has given to the Conference also a bequest of $500, to be used in the interests of the claimants of the Conference.

The Iowa Conference Permanent Fund.—The Iowa Conference began the task of accumulating a permanent fund for better support of Conference claimants in 1877. At the session of the Conference that year, George Haw, Treasurer of the Board of Stewards, reported the receipt of $16 from John Haynes and five notes of $5 each to be paid in five yearly payments. At the session in 1903 Mr. Haw, who was still treasurer, reported this fund to be $1,391.41 with unpaid interest due, $81.

Some years ago the goal was set at $50,000, but this has been passed and $100,000 fixed as a minimum. Chris Haw of Ottumwa, Ia., is the Treasurer of the fund, which now amounts to $58,509.90.

The Preachers' Aid Society of the Illinois Annual Conference has been engaged in raising fund of $500,000, and had succeeded in securing $200,000 at the time of the Conference session in 1916. The Conference took action instituting an intensive campaign to raise the $300,000. Every pastoral charge is asked to raise an amount equal to salary paid pastor in 1916.

It is believed that in a brief time annuities, wills and bequests will produce $250,000, making a grand total of $750,000.

Michigan Conference Claimants' Endowment Fund.—The Secretary, Rev. L. E. Lennox, writes: "We should look at this Titanic task from the angle of vision of need of the retired and disabled minister, or the need of the widow and orphan of the deceased minister. There are hundreds of these aged preachers throughout the land, as noble men as ever lived."

This Conference is out to raise $500,000, which is the goal now; a Detroit donor offers $100,000 provided they raise $400,000; so they are after the half million instead of $150,000, as in 1915.

Trustees of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.—This corporation was organized in 1843, under the laws of the State of New York, for the purpose of holding such real estate and receiving and investing such funds as the Conference might acquire from time to time, for the benefit of the superannuate ministers, their widows, and orphans under sixteen years of age, belonging to the Conference. Necessarily small at first, the benefits from this fund were not large, but by gift and bequest it has been steadily increasing until it now aggregates $336,194.05 with an annual dividend of $16,500. Large as this dividend seems, it is still inadequate, even with the added Conference collections, for the needs of the constantly growing body of Claimants, and the trustees are trying to devise some plan by which the fund can be increased, that every retired minister shall have a comfortable living in his old age. The officers of this Board are: President, Rev. R. H. Travis, D.D., New York city; Treasurer, Hon. John E. Andrus, Yonkers, N. Y.; Secretary, Rev. F. J. Belcher, New York city.

An Endowment Fund of $200,000 is being raised, the proceeds of which will be paid to all claimants of the Conference, whether members or not.

One half of this fund is now in hand and $600 was turned over to the Conference Stewards this year. Also $768 was paid to Society Claimants.

Preachers' Aid Society of the New England Conference.—This is composed wholly of laymen, and was incorporated in 1857, when $2,260 was raised. Its moneys have come from collections in the churches, legacies, the Book Concern, the Wesleyan Association, the Chartered Fund, and the Conference Trustees. A Permanent Fund, beginning with $4,500 in 1873, was gradually accumulated until, in 1903, it amounted to $72,709. Then it was stolen by an absconding treasurer, and all had to be begun over. The Fund in the hands of the treasurer now amounts to $232,071.09, and there are enough moneys on the way to make it up to $300,000. The available income from these funds is $6,850. Plans are already laid to raise an additional $200,000 for this Fund, making it $500,000 in all. The present officers are: President, Everett O. Fisk; Vice-President, Charles R. Magee; Secretary, John L. Harvey; Treasurer, Arthur E. Dennis.

It now has a permanent fund of $70,000, the income from which, together with the annuities paid by the members of the Society, make available for distribution among the beneficiaries each year about $5,400.

The Oklahoma Conference Claimants' Endowment Campaign.—A campaign has been inaugurated in this Conference to raise at least $100,000 on the following plan:

That each effective member and each probationer in the Conference shall pay during the year, for five consecutive years, a sum equal to one per cent of his cash salary, exclusive of house rent, which sum shall be used in paying the salary and expenses of a field agent. Also that each member of Conference holding a Supernumerary relation shall pay annually at least $5 into said expense fund while they hold such relation.

That each charge shall be asked to contribute at least $1 per member to said permanent fund to be paid in cash or five equal annual installments.

The Commission consists of Revs. M. Porter, W. R. Johnson, J. M. Strong, F. L. Hamand, G. H. Simons. Laymen: J. S. Shearer, A. E. Beyer. W. T. Euster, Field Agent or Secretary.

The outlook now is that they will have $100,000 or more by Conference time. They are going to petition the Conference to indorse an asking for $250,000. The amount to be secured is in cash and pledges. The pledges will be in the form of promissory notes to be paid in five equal annual installments. All deferred payments draw interest at the rate of seven per cent. They now have more than $5,000 invested in long time Municipal Bonds.

The Association promotes two funds, current and permanent. The permanent is an invested fund amounting now to $100,000, the interest alone being used. The current fund takes care of the expenses of administration, after which the balance is added to the interest of the permanent fund, and these make up the appropriation made each year for distribution by the Conference Stewards.

The Association is seeking an endowment of $500,000, the income from which is to be added to the Annual Conference funds for the care of retired ministers. In addition to the cash, there is in pledges $275,000, and the fund is growing.

Troy Conference Endowment Fund.—From 1864 up to 1901 this Conference had received for the benefit of its superannuate ministers $63,656. In 1903 a movement was started to bring the Fund up to $100,000. At the Conference session of 1916 a fund of $100,000, with a possible $2,000 additional was reported. Then the Conference determined to make the fund $200,000, and the Laymen's Association raised the figure to $300,000. The Board of Conference Claimants with the Field Secretary, the District Superintendents, and a committee of ministers and laymen from each District are earnestly working to reach this goal during the Conference year 1917-18.

Humphrey, 30 Methodist Book Concern, Cincinnati, O., is the Secretary.

Ten per cent of the pastor's salary is a reasonable sum and will enable the Conference to pay the entire claim upon it. The District Superintendents are directed to make an assessment equal to ten per cent of the pastor's salary, not including house rent, to be raised wherever possible; and each pastor pro rate on the basis of at least five per cent of his salary.

Wyoming Conference Preachers' Aid Society.—This Conference increased its invested fund, March 1, 1916, of $104,695.66 to $117,491.93, March 31, 1917. The amount of annuity now being paid is $8.60 per year for each retired preacher. A year's campaign, mainly of education, has already been conducted in the effort to raise a permanent fund of $400,000. Rev. John S. Crompton, Scranton, Pa., is the campaign manager. This campaign is in charge of a Board of Managers, consisting of Rev. James A. Hensley, D.D., District Superintendent, Binghamton, N. Y.; President; Rev. Alexander D. Decker, Pittston, Pa., Secretary; Rev. Louis D. Palmer, Scranton, Pa., Treasurer.

Wyoming State Conference.—This Conference, as it passed from a Mission to an Annual Conference, began at once the movement for the help of Conference Claimants by the organization of a Preachers' Aid Society, making it necessary that those who are voting members in any year shall have paid into the hands of the treasurer 1 per cent of their salary, including missionary money, but excluding house rent—this money, together with any sums received by gifts or bequests, to be invested and the income used for the benefit of members of the Society. They adopted the provision found in ¶¶ 333 to 344 of the Discipline governing the support of the beneficiaries.

In 1916, the death of the Conference Secretary, Brother J. J. Hicks, made his widow and four children claimants, while the superannuation of Brother J. H. Gillespie and Brother J. K. Hicks added to the necessity of thought for this matter. In consequence, the apportionment to the charges was fixed at $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent for the year 1916-1917.

Bethany Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.—This institution was organized in 1894 and in 1902 it erected a beautiful hospital at the corner of Saint Nicholas Avenue and Bleecker Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. The Hospital has room for 40 patients. It is furnished with all modern appliances and is considered one of the best equipped small hospitals in the East. Sixteen deaconesses are connected with the institution. Last year 560 patients were treated in the hospital and 428 operations performed. The Bethany Society has a fine Rest Home at Jeffersonville, Sullivan County, N. Y. The institution has an endowment fund of $8,000. As the hospital has been taxed to its utmost capacity in past years an addition is contemplated, especially for maternity purposes, as soon as the necessary funds can be secured. As a branch of the work a Home for the Aged was inaugurated on September 7, 1909. The Home acquired a parcel of land with a house on it, valued at about $8,000, which served as a temporary home for ten inmates. A new building of the Home for the Aged was erected during the past year, costing $21,500. It was dedicated June 8, 1915. There is room for 36 inmates. The whole property is valued at $30,000 with $2,000 debt. Miss Hulda Feistel is Matron, and Rev. G. F. Hausser is Superintendent. President, Rev. H. Mueller; Secretary, Rev. Bethany Methodist Hospital, Kansas City, Kan.—Bethany Methodist Hospital was established in March, 1892, and its doors have never been closed against suffering humanity from that day to the present.

New Bethany opened its doors for the reception of patients January 18, 1916, and since opening New Bethany three thousand patients have registered for treatment, 30 per cent of whom have been guests of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this contributing territory. In March, 1908, the four Kansas Conferences, the Saint Louis, and the West German took control.

The building, grounds, and equipment represent an expenditure of about $335,000. The building is fireproof, five stories with basement and sub-basement. In the sub-basement, the refrigerators, engine rooms, filter and vacuum cleaners are located. There are two electric elevators. The kitchen is connected with each floor, diet kitchen and roof with automatic push button waiters of the call and send type.

There are four splendid surgeries. A Maternity Department second to none. X-Ray and Pathological Laboratories.

J. McLean Moulder, M.D., who for many years was Superintendent of the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, Ind., has been Superintendent of Bethany since October 1, 1915.

Deaconess Hospital, Boston, Mass.—Established in 1896. Capacity, 70 beds. The Hospital in Boston and in Concord will cooperate this year in caring for sick and wounded soldiers to the extent of 50 at a time. A temporary Ward Building such as those now in use in France will be erected on the vacant lot adjoining the Hospital for this purpose. New England Methodism will commend this patriotic action and the United States Government has accepted the institution for service.

Income of the Hospital in 1916, $76,764.71. Expenditures, $71,998.20. Number of patients cared for in 1916, 1,409. Total amount of free work during the year, $8,327.60. Miss A. A. Methodist Episcopal Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.—The first General Hospital in the world to be opened under auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Founded by George I. Seney in 1881 and opened December 15, 1887. Patients treated in all departments, annually, 15,000. Capacity, 300 beds and cribs. Its endowment of $956,485.19 is far from adequate, considering that so large a percentage of the work (75 per cent) must be done free or partially free on account of deserving poverty. About 8,000 very poor people make use of the Dispensary an average of three times a year. Two ambulances go upon 2,000 errands of mercy each year. A Nurses' Home, capable of accommodating 140 women, was opened in 1914. Its erection, while making possible important improvements in other departments, occasioned a debt, extremely burdensome in this time of war. It cost $164,763.77 for construction, $12,368.41 for furnishings, and, to date, $15,777.02 for interest on loans—a grand total of $192,909.20. The debt, by hard work and through generous contributions by members of the Board of Management and friends, has been reduced to $100,000. Against this are $27,000 in pledges outstanding. The training school affords an opportunity for Christian young women to equip themselves for a useful life-work and a lucrative income. The regular course is two years and six months. A post graduate course of six months is also provided. With the outbreak of the war the Management immediately proffered the use of one pavilion with adjacent grounds to the United States government. Thousands of dollars, over and above customary gifts, will be required to place the Hospital in a state of complete preparedness, when the authorities avail themselves of the offer. Also a great store of hospital garments, sheets, pillow cases, and other supplies will be needed. Temporary pavilions may have to be erected on the Hospital lawns. The Hospital is denominational in name, enterprise, and financial responsibility, but otherwise unsectarian, no distinction being made as to the color, race, or religious belief of patients. President, Alfred P. Sloan; Vice-President, William Halls, Jr.; Second Vice-President, Simon J. Harding; Third Vice-President, James M. Farrar, D.D., LL.D.; Secretary, Frank A. Horne; Treasurer, Charles E. Teale; Assistant Treasurer, A. Ross Matheson, M.D.; President Emeritus, James M. Buckley, D.D., LL.D.; Superintendent, James E. Holmes, D.D.; Field Secretary, Otto Brand. Five buildings are occupied as homes for the 54 pupil nurses of the School of Nursing. The nurses' course covers three years of theoretical and practical instruction. Literature will be sent on application. The entire plant, with equipment, cost $254,158, $35,000 of which came from two bequests. The Hospital has 42 rooms and five private wards, with a capacity of 110 beds. Two houses are used in conjunction with the Hospital, thus giving a total capacity of 140 beds. The staff is composed of some of the most skillful physicians and surgeons in Ohio. No applicant is admitted who has not a high school education or its equivalent. The eight-hour system is employed. An enormous amount of charity work is done. Seventy-five per cent of the charity cases are from outside the city of Indianapolis. The endowment is small. Miss June Gray is Superintendent of the Training School. Dr. C. S. Woods is Superintendent and General Secretary.

The Memorial Methodist Hospital and Training School for Nurses, Mattoon, Ill., is the only Hospital in the Illinois Conference controlled by the Methodist Church. Through the generosity of the late Dr. David McFall and others, who gave largely to its support, its existence was made possible, and it was formally opened in March, 1906. During December of 1915, citizens of Mattoon put on a campaign and raised sufficient funds, together with money obtained from the sale of the McFall farm, to build a new modern and up-to-date hospital.

Our new building has all modern conveniences—one emergency operating room, two regular operating rooms, and a maternity room. The hospital is of fifty-three bed capacity. The building was completed and opened on February 14 last. Excellent work is being done, and its central location has afforded large opportunities for service through the surrounding country. The tornado which lately passed through a part of our city, and which injured so many people, besides killing sixty-six, gave our Hospital a test. The building was filled to overflowing—all rooms were filled, as well as the halls and spare rooms in the basement, and the superintendent, together with her assistants and nurses, proved themselves equal to the occasion by rendering aid and assistance to all until outside assistance could reach Mattoon.

The officers are S. W. Phillips, President; G. H. Cokendolpher, Vice-President; C. E. Odell, Secretary and Treasurer; Delphine Pearson, Superintendent.

Methodist State Hospital, Mitchell, S. D.—The new Hospital is nearing completion. It is expected to open February 1, 1918. Plans are being perfected to care for the entire outlay for the construction and equipment. A first class Training School for nurses will be opened with the Hospital, and affiliated with Dakota Wesleyan University. Rev. G. T. Notson is the Executive Secretary.

The Methodist Hospital of Southern California is located at 2826 So. Hope Street, Los Angeles, California, on a beautiful plot of ground with a frontage of 250 feet, costing $25,000. This lot was purchased in 1909 and the work carried on in a home already on the grounds until the erection of the present building. This was built in 1914-1915 at a cost, including furnishings, of $170,000. It is a five-story reinforced concrete building thoroughly furnished with all modern appliances and is unusually strong in its surgical equipment. It has accommodation for 120 patients. The total value of the hospital properties is $285,000. It has an endowment of $18,500, part of which is income bearing. Its receipts from patients last year were $115,227, and its expenditures were $111,557. It cared for 2,469 patients and spent in its "complimentary" service $8,357. The institution is under the care of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Southern California Conference and its affairs administered by a Board of Directors chosen by that organization. The President of the board is Mr. W. S. Allen, the Superintendent, Miss Ida M. Rood, R. N.; the Field Secretary, Rev. Alfred Inwood. The Hospital is rendering a large service at the heart of this great and growing Conference.

The Oklahoma Methodist Episcopal Hospital and Training School for Nurses, located at Guthrie, Okla., is a general Hospital. It was secured by our church in December, 1906, and was indorsed by the General Deaconess Board in May, 1914.

Its property is valued at $37,000 and its debt has been reduced to $9,500. The calls for free work are heavy in this new country, and in three years they have done $23,000 worth of free work and excellent service along medical, surgical, and obstetrical lines. Rev. T. S. Pittenger of Alva is President of the Board of Trustees.

Sibley Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C.—Rev. H. S. France, President; Miss Frances W. Moore, R.N., Acting Superintendent of Hospital. This Hospital is owned and operated by the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church and is an integral part of the Lucy Webb Hayes National Training School. The entire plant is valued at $500,000. A new building, known as Robinson Hall, devoted to hospital purposes, is a six-story fireproof building, with all modern improvements. The Hospital is maintained for a double purpose, and only Christian women are admitted to training: 1. The training of young women for missionary and deaconess nursing. 2. To care for the sick, the poor, and the helpless. The number of free patients admitted is limited only by the capacity of the building and the ability of the local board of directors to meet the current expenses of the institution. Each year the amount spent in free work far exceeds the amount of all contributions received from friends both in Washington and far away. The free service rendered must be measured by the amount given the Hospital management. Free patients admitted to the Hospital are treated by our physicians without charge. Address the office of the President, Lucy Webb Hayes National Training School for Deaconesses and Missionaries, 1150 North Capitol Street, Washington, D. C.

Wesley Memorial Hospital, Chicago, Ill.—This Hospital, incorporated in 1888, was the first in America under the charge of the deaconesses of the Methodist Episcopal Church. On February 1, 1905, the management of the Hospital was turned over to the Hospital board of trustees, 30 in number. A new structure for the hospital has recently been erected, making the value of the building $600,000. There is an endowment of $1,300,000. The Hospital has a capacity of 275 beds. An excellent Nurses' Training School, with 115 nurses in residence, is connected with the Hospital. Number of patients cared for during the year, 6,856. It is located at South Broad and Wolf Streets. The grounds are ample, there being more than 5 acres, the appliances for hospital work modern and complete. It was founded by Dr. Scott Stewart, who made provision for it in his will November 1, 1877, and who died June 29, 1881. The bequest was accepted by the Philadelphia Conference for the Methodist Episcopal Church in March, 1882. It is the object of this institution to place the advantages of this splendid climate within the reach of many, who through lack of means would be forced to make a losing fight elsewhere.

Number of beds for patients, 40. Number of patients treated annually, 50. Value of free work at current rates, $2,800.

METHODIST HOSPITALS OF THE UNITED STATES

The statistics of this table have been collected by Lucy Rider Meyer. They will be of interest to all who know how to read into bare statistics facts which give them vital significance. The statistics have been gathered in nearly every instance by direct and very recent correspondence with hospital authorities, and are thus entirely dependable. The hospitals are listed in the order of the number of patients cared for since this, rather than property, is their measure of immediate usefulness.

THE CHICAGO TRAINING SCHOOL

This pioneer Training School was founded thirty-two years ago by Lucy Rider Meyer and J. Shelley Meyer. Starting with only two teachers and a curriculum of about a dozen courses, the School has developed until at present it offers 85 courses of study in the departments of Bible, Evangelism, Church Efficiency, Missions, Religious Education, Social Service, Church History, Music, Home Economics, etc. Its faculty consists of ten resident members and an equal number of non-resident instructors. In addition to its comprehensive theoretical work, it is in direct touch with 50 great social, educational, and religious institutions of Chicago, thus offering an unparalleled field of practical training to its students. The School plant consists of several spacious buildings and is capable of housing 350 students. The School has trained 337 women for the foreign field, several hundred for the home field, while the Deaconess Work of American Methodism found at first all its volunteers in this School and has since received from its students more than a thousand recruits.

With the unprecedented opportunities for expansion arising from the need of trained leadership in the church, the Board of Trustees was recently reorganized and Dr. Louis F. W. Lesemann, a leading member of the Rock River Conference and well known to a much larger circle, was elected to the presidency of the institution. A very decided and hopeful forward movement must lie in the near future.

The School offers vocational courses for missionaries, deaconesses, directors of religious education, social service workers, general church workers, and trains lay workers for efficient service in the Sunday school, the church, and the community. Capable students are aided by a limited number of scholarships or half-scholarships, and by opportunities of self-help for the defraying of expense. The School aims to make Christian training possible to any young woman of ability and determination. Downtown evening classes are a new, striking feature of the work, as are also the Summer School and the unique Nursing Institute.

Dr. Louis F. W. Lesemann, President; Dr. J. S. Ladd Thomas, President of the Board of Trustees; Mr. A. W. Harris, Treasurer of the Endowment Fund; Lucy Rider Meyer, Promotion Secretary.

CHILD WELFARE

The General Conference of 1916 made the following declaration which appears in the book of Discipline:

The Methodist Episcopal Church indorses every intelligent organized effort to foster the welfare of childhood in its broadest aspects. It recognizes the great importance of child hygiene and stands for an adequate physical environment for every child; for medical inspection in public schools and institutions; for the correction of physical defects, and for the testing of mental endowments that the best treatment of medical science may be employed and a proper social environment supplied; for the principle of mothers' pensions in order that the children of needy widows may be properly cared for.

It stands for Christian environment as an essential formative influence in child life, and the home as the recognized constituted authority responsible for training in faith, conduct, and habits.

It stands for an education that shall qualify for livelihood occupation as well as for thrifty living and that shall make provision for every child that none be overlooked or unwittingly excluded.

It recognizes the Methodist Child Welfare Society as an approved agency for securing the proper functioning of institutions for destitute and friendless children and the standardization of work in their behalf, that the maximum of efficient service may be rendered and the responsibility for these classes may be better understood.

The Methodist Child Welfare Society announces as its purpose the arousement of public interest in child welfare, collection of authentic information, financial assistance to meritorious and promising agencies in Methodism whose aims are the moral and physical improvement of the child and the fostering of the work of other child welfare agencies whose policies and methods may be approved. The office of the Society is located at 150 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Methodist Children's Institutions for the homeless and destitute for the year ending July 1, 1917, are reported by Dr. Burdette B. Brown, Secretary of the Society and Superintendent of Saint Christopher's Home, as follows:

Of the 23 institutions in the Methodist Episcopal Church and the 37 in American Methodism, 6 are conducted on the cottage plan, the children living in cottages accommodating about 25. Twenty-one are on the congregate plan, the children living in one or more large buildings. The remainder are on the partial cottage plan, a few of the children living in one or more cottages and the majority in a large central building.

During the year the following statistical increases have been reported:

Resident children, 280; placed out, 68; under supervision, 229; bringing the total number of resident children to 3,971; the placed out in family homes to 336, and the number under supervision to 453.

The property increases since 1910 total $190,000 in institutions established prior to that date. Several institutions established since 1910 add substantially to the total increase. Four institutions report that public charges are received without embarrassment. All report that where the work has become known there is a fine spirit of interested cooperation on the part of the churches. Most of the institutions are continuing their work about as in former years.

The most serious problems reported are the securing of adequate income, the finding of qualified, consecrated workers for the salaries paid and the securing of suitable homes and positions for the large girls and boys. A few are forging ahead with improvement and expansion. Among these are (1) Saint Christopher's Home, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., which has developed its placing out work more extensively than any of the others, and which is now appealing for an addition of $250,000 to its Permanent Fund; (2) the Methodist Children's Home in Buffalo, N. Y., is securing an outfit of buildings; and (3) in the South the Virginia Conference Orphanage at Richmond is making substantial additions to its number of cottages.

Saint Christopher's Home, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.—This Metropolitan Area children's home, of which Dr. Burdette B. Brown is Superintendent, has been rendering invaluable service in its present location during a period of twenty-eight years. It is a pioneer in the adoption of the cottage plan which is slowly but surely winning its place as the approved method of dealing with homeless children.

Especially important at the present time is the appeal for an addition of $250,000 to the Permanent Fund. The great increase in the cost of commodities and the necessity of maintaining at a high standard of efficiency makes imperative the provision of an adequate income. Some of the best names in Methodism have been and are associated with Saint Christopher's Home and the church must not permit this metropolitan enterprise to suffer for the lack of necessary income.

Class instruction is provided through the 6th grade, beyond which children attend the public school. There are classes in cooking, sewing, dress-making, general housework, carpentry, and gardening. Special teachers are provided for these classes and also for instruction in singing. During the summer months a Director of Play conducts classes for the little children, a Bluebird Class for the middle-size girls, a Camp Fire Organization for the older girls and Junior and Senior Boy Scout activities for the boys. Some who have graduated from the Home have received normal instruction and several are now taking college courses.

A Home physician and a throat specialist, Dr. Robert H. Fowler, who performs all necessary tonsil and adenoid operations, are paid regular salaries. Dental examinations are made twice each year. Monthly inspections are made and reported to the Health Department.

The religious life includes study of the Scriptures, the practice of prayer, attendance at the community church on Sunday morning, Bible School instruction, and classes at the Home, memorizing of portions of the Scripture, singing of Christian hymns and patriotic songs. The older girls and boys very generally unite with the church upon confession of faith.

Several of the alumni of the Home have entered the Military Service as volunteers. The Home physician, Dr. F. R. Lyman, has been accepted as surgeon of the Westchester County Red Cross medical unit. Surgical dressings, bandages, and knit goods have been made for the Red Cross by classes of the older girls.

The officers include the following: President, Mrs. Rastus S. Ransom; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. F. W. Otheman, Miss Ellen McClean, Mrs. Anderson Fowler; Receiving Treasurer, Miss Ellen I. Betty; Disbursing Treasurer, Mrs. William H. Laird; Treasurer of Permanent Funds, Mrs. John C. Clark; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. F. M. North. The Advisory Board includes Mr. Justice John C. Clark Chairman, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, John E. Eustis, Lowell H. Brown, Ambrose R. Adams, Coulter D. Huyler.

In the list of names of contributors and workers who have at some time been associated with the Home are found Mr. and Mrs. John D. Archbold, Mrs. Etta A. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Bowne, Mr. John S. McLean, Mrs. William F. McDowell, Mr. John S. Huyler, Hon. P. C. Lounsbury, John C. Cornell, Dr. F. M. North, Dr. E. S. Tipple, Mr. John C. Havemeyer, Mrs. Helen Gould Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Ormiston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Helen Hurst Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Hatch, Dr. Henry D. Chapin, Dr. Charles H. Judson, Miss S. M. Riggs, Mrs. E. S. Hewitt, Mrs. J. H. Littell.

The Historical Society of the Wyoming State Conference has been for the twenty-five years of its existence under the care of its president, J. H. Gillespie, of Sheridan, Wyo. During these years historical sketches and pictures have been secured from nearly all the charges. Enough material is on hand to make a history of perhaps 150 pages. This is the semi-centennial of the organization of our church in Wyoming. Had it not been for the excitement incident to the war we should have observed it with appropriate ceremonies.

WORLD-WIDE METHODISM

ENGLISH METHODISM

English Methodism had its birth with the Wesleyan movement, receiving its name at the University of Oxford in 1729. The first Methodist Society of England was formed in 1739, and in 1744 Mr. Wesley held his first Conference at the Foundry.

The Wesleyan Reformed Union separated from Wesleyan Methodism in 1850 and was organized as a separate body in 1859. It is one of the smaller branches that has not yet been absorbed.

Independent Methodist Churches. These began in 1796 and united with other societies in 1806. The title was changed twice, but in 1898 the old name was resumed. The one hundred and twelfth annual meeting was held in June, 1917.

Australian Methodism began in 1836, and the first Conference was held in 1855. Their Publishing House is in Sydney, the Rev. W. H. Beale, Book Steward; Melbourne, Rev. T. Grow, Book Steward; Adelaide, Rev. C. H. Ingamells, Book Steward; Brisbane, Rev. Dr. Youngman, Book Steward; Perth, Rev. C. A. Jenkins, Book Steward.

AFRICAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

An agitation began in Philadelphia as early as 1787, when a company of colored Methodists, dissatisfied with present conditions, and hoping to secure larger privileges and more freedom of action than they believed possible in continued association with their white brethren, and also to avoid certain humiliating discriminations practised against them, withdrew and built a chapel. In 1794 Richard Allen, a well-to-do Negro, built the Bethel Church, which was dedicated by Bishop Asbury and remained under the jurisdiction of the Methodist Episcopal Church until 1814, when it was announced that "white preachers could not longer maintain pastoral responsibility for colored congregations." As a result, in April, 1815, the African Methodist Episcopal Church was regularly organized. They now report 5,000 ministers, 6,000 churches, 620,000 members.

UNION AMERICAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH (COLORED)

Organized in 1805, when the colored members of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church of Wilmington, Del., withdrew. They objected to white control of this new organization, so on September 7, 1813, the "Union Church of Africans" was incorporated. In 1850 a division occurred, resulting in the African Union Church on one hand and the Union American Methodist Episcopal Church on the other.

STATISTICS.—170 ministers, 212 churches, 19,000 members.

AFRICAN UNION METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH (COLORED)

This body began as the "Union Church of Africans," in Wilmington, Del., in 1813. They were affected by the division in 1850 that made the "Union American Methodist Episcopal Church." In 1865 nine congregations of this original body effected a union with fourteen congregations of a society known as the "First Colored Methodist Protestant Church," and adopted the very peculiar title of the "African Union First Colored Methodist Protestant Church of America and Elsewhere," but it has ordinarily been known as the "African Union Methodist Protestant Church."

STATISTICS.—Ministers, 200; churches, 125; members, 4,000.

REFORMED ZION UNION APOSTOLIC CHURCH (COLORED)

This church was organized at Boydton, in southeastern Virginia, in April, 1869, by the Rev. James R. Howell, a minister of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, and took the name of Zion Union Apostolic Church. Owing to dissensions a few years later, the church was completely disorganized. In 1881 the Rev. John M. Bishop gathered together the scattered members, and effected a union, which in 1882 was reorganized under the name of "Reformed Zion Union Apostolic Church." By the census of 1906 there were 33 ministers, 45 churches, 3,059 members.

REFORMED METHODIST UNION EPISCOPAL CHURCH (COLORED)

This body came out from the African Methodist Episcopal Church in 1884, and was organized in 1885 as the Independent Methodist Church. In 1896 it was decided to make a change and create an episcopacy, and the name was changed to Reformed Methodist Union Episcopal Church.

STATISTICS.—Ministers, 72; churches, 58; members, 4,397.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH

Organized at Baltimore, Md., in November, 1828, after years of discussion of the "Mutual Rights of Ministry and Laity." The name first adopted was "The Associated Methodist Churches." In 1830 it was changed to "Methodist Protestant Church," when 83 ministers and about 5,000 members were enrolled. In 1858 they divided because the word "white" was left in the Discipline, thus excluding colored people from eligibility to office. They were reunited in 1877, and continue to this day in love and fellowship. 1,370 ministers, 2,348 churches, 195,036 members. There are 29 Annual Conferences and 11 Mission Conferences.

OFFICERS.—President, Rev. Lyman E. Davis, 219 Federal Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Secretary, Rev. Charles H. Beck, 405 Pittsburgh Life Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.;

FREE METHODIST CHURCH OF NORTH AMERICA

About 1850 there was an agitation in the western part of New York State, charging that Methodism was in no small degree removed from the "primitive standards of faith, experience, and practice." After some years of discussion, prosecutions and expulsions from the church, during which time many withdrew, a convention was held in 1860, at Pekin, N. Y., which resulted in the organization of the Free Methodist Church. It has had considerable prosperity.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHURCH OF AMERICA

The Camp Meeting was a result of the evangelization movement of the first decade of the nineteenth century, and was distinctively American. The first one was held in eastern Kentucky, being a union of the Presbyterians and the Methodists. As the Presbyterians largely withdrew in a short time, it became a special feature of Methodist revival work. Its novelty and the work it wrought attracted attention in England, and Lorenzo Dow, well known in early Methodism as a most eccentric character, went over and held meetings at Mow Cop, Staffordshire, in May 1807. The converts of these meetings were soon called "Camp Meeting Methodists," and they were not welcomed into the Wesleyan Connection. This meeting is regarded as the real beginning of Primitive Methodism, though the first society or church was not organized until March, 1810. The name "Primitive" was officially assumed at Tunstall, England, in February, 1812. Emigration brought many of the converts to America where they formed societies. In 1844 Hugh Bourne, one of the leaders and founders, arrived in America and the church was organized.

WESLEYAN METHODIST CONNECTION IN AMERICA

In 1841 a society was formed in Michigan which took the name of Wesleyan Methodists. A little later a convention was called to prepare for the organization of a church that should be anti-slavery and non-episcopal. The result was the formation, on May 31, 1843, at Utica, N. Y., of the Wesleyan Methodist Connection of America. It began with about 6,000 members. They barred from membership all persons connected with slavery, or in any way with the manufacture or sale of intoxicants, and all persons who were members of secret societies. They have 840 ministers, 675 churches, 20,669 members. NEW CONGREGATIONAL METHODIST CHURCH

A financial stringency compelled the Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1881, to consolidate several of the smaller churches in the southern part of the State. As a protest, they called a Conference of such churches and decided to withdraw and form a new body, and in September of that year the New Congregational Methodist Church was organized. The last figures given were in 1906—59 ministers, 34 churches, 1,782 members. From indications they are practically extinct at the present time.

Since the declaration of war with Germany, the National War Work Council has mobilized the Association movement of the United States for the purpose of providing the service of the Young Men's Christian Association to the American troops both in America and in Europe. For this purpose alone this War Work Council will be obliged to expend for the year 1917 nearly $4,000,000.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Associations in two hundred and sixty-one cities and towns, twenty-three counties, and seven hundred and twenty-two colleges are united in the national organization. The National Board is the committee elected by this organization to carry on its work in the interim of its meeting; this meeting is called the National Convention. The total membership of the national organization is 362,191.

The headquarters of the National Board are in New York City; there are branch offices in ten other cities, namely, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Richmond, Chicago, Saint Louis, Denver, Dallas, Minneapolis, Seattle, Cincinnati. These cities are headquarters for the field committees which the National Board has appointed to represent it in each section. Each field committee employs a staff of secretaries and through them does the actual work of organizing and giving help to the Associations of its own field. Seventy-eight such field secretaries are working at the present time.

Special effort is being made to adapt the Association to meet the needs of girls on the farm, and of the girl in her teens; to form federations of industrial clubs in city Associations; and a minimum curriculum for courses in Bible, mission, and social study has been adopted in cooperation with the student Young Men's Christian Associations and the college department of Sunday schools—to be promoted in student Associations.

The War Work Council, acting through the Field Work Department, is organized under the following committees: Non-Equipment and Social Morality, Finance, the Extension of Regular Work, Cooperation and Publicity, Work in Europe, the Training of Workers, New Centers of Work, Non-English Speaking Women, and Junior Council.

Six special coworkers and thirty-seven workers at the various training camps are handling this situation.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The purpose of the Boy Scout Movement is to develop character, initiative, and resourcefulness in boys by cultivating their interest in activities of practical everyday value through their interest in the fascinating outdoor activities of the scout program.

It is in the wearing of the uniform and doing of things together as scouts that they absorb the force and truth of the Scout Law, which states, "A scout is a friend of all, and a brother to every other scout."

It is estimated that there are several million scouts throughout the world, of whom about 260,000 are in the United States, under the volunteer leadership of about 70,000 clean, strong men.

The annual report of the Boy Scouts of America for the year 1916 shows that, at the end of that year, out of a total of 9,720 troops then registered, 8,970 were under scoutmasters acknowledging a church preference. Of these, 2,413 were under scoutmasters of the Methodist faith, the Methodists having more scoutmasters than any other denomination, the next largest being the Presbyterians with 1,555, the Baptists with 1,000, the Episcopalians with 799, the Congregationalists with 798, etc. Of the institutions, such as churches and Sunday schools, with which troops were connected, 1,587 were Methodist (1,174 public schools), 900 Presbyterian, 596 Congregationalist, 574 Baptist, 463 Episcopalian, etc.

The tremendous value of the scout program is thoroughly demonstrated by the manner in which the scouts in the warring nations of Europe have responded to the calls of their countries—not as combatants, but as able humanitarians, active in the service of their fellow countrymen. Scouts are harvesting the crops, acting as letter carriers, and performing all sorts of civic duties, as well as rendering much valuable assistance in cooperation with the Red Cross authorities in caring for the wounded.

National Headquarters of the Scouts of America, 200 Fifth Avenue, New York.

THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Camp Fire Girls of America is commending itself more and more to our churches as a successful means of organizing the intermediate and senior girls for wholesome and purposeful work. The law of the Camp Fire, "Seek beauty; give service; pursue knowledge; be trustworthy; hold on to health; glorify work; be happy," will indicate the scope of its purpose. The founders of this organization for girls have studied the psychology of girlhood and womanhood, and the Camp Fire Girls is not merely a revised and feminine version of its predecessor, the Boy Scouts. Many of the churches are linking this organization with their Sunday school work most successfully. The Camp Fire Headquarters are at 461 Fourth Avenue, New York city. For suggestions as to means of linking work with the Sunday school, write to the Sunday School Editorial Department, 420 Plum Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

In 1916 a cooperative relationship was entered into with the Commission on Temperance of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, representing thirty denominations, with a membership of over 18,000,000. Through the new arrangement the National Temperance Society has entered upon a work of increased effectiveness. "In order to be a member one must be a commercial traveler who believes in Christ as the eternal Son of God and accepts him as his Saviour and endeavors to follow him in his daily life, and who has affiliated for a period of three months or longer with some Christian church."

One of the chief endeavors with which the Gideons have become known is that of the distribution of Bibles in the hotel rooms of the country. No less than 275,000 Bibles have thus been placed by them.

THE "GOOD NEIGHBOR" MOVEMENT

The movement is described by Dr. Charles Stelzle as follows:

"The plan has as its immediate purpose the securing of a considerable number of men and women who will assume responsibility for families or individuals whose need may consist of food, clothing, a doctor's service, medicine or a job. The 'good neighbor' need not necessarily supply all these wants, but he may assist by directing the needy person to the agencies or persons prepared to do so. However, no limit is to be placed upon the friendship and neighborliness which the 'good neighbor' may feel disposed to exercise."

Since that date conventions have been held successively at Saint Louis, London, Jerusalem, Rome, Washington, and Zurich. The next convention, which was to have been held in Tokyo, Japan, in 1916, is postponed to the same place following the war. By agreement with the Missionary and Sunday School Boards represented in the Foreign Missions Conference and the Sunday School Council of Evangelical Denominations, these two organizations became represented in the American Section of the Executive Committee in January, 1916, to the extent of one half of the membership of that committee. Two Methodist representatives from the Foreign Missions Conference and the Sunday School Council were appointed to the Executive Committee.
